Reds Get Warning From US

Dulles Says Attack Of Mainland Would Probably Follow Any Assault On Formosa

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China had blunt warning today that the United States would probably attack the Chinese mainland if the Reds attempted to conquer Formosa.

Secretary of State Dulles made this statement yesterday in announcing that a mutual security pact will be signed with the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa in the next few days.

He said the treaty means U.S. retaliation against any Red invasion of Formosa. Although saying a counterattack on the mainland was probable in such an event, he declined to discuss in detail the scope of any retaliation.

In another statement at his press conference yesterday, adding up to a "tough" policy on Communist China. Dulles said that the United States may yet consider a naval blockade for the China coast if American rights are not respected — that is, if the 13 Americans recently sentenced as spies are not released.

The new pact, if ratified by the Senate as expected, will assure American protection for many years to Formosa and the Pescadores Islands, thus forging the last link in a chain of military alliances designed to block Red Chinese expansion in the Pacific.

The islands have been shielded by the U.S. 7th Fleet since the beginning of the Korean War in June 1950. Under the treaty the shielding may go on for years more.

The treaty is expected to go to the Senate early next year for ratification. Several members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee indicated today a favorable reaction to the pact.

South Korea, Japan, the Philippines, Austrialia, New Zealand and parts of Southeast Asia already are covered by similar treaties.

The Eisenhower administration, while taking a strong policy line in the Far East, is reported hopeful that gradually a modus vivendi —a way of getting along—will be found without warlike actions. The treaty with Chiang Kai-shek, Dulles made clear, is supposed to contribute to that purpose.

As for Chiang's freedom to attack the mainland, Dulles said he expects an arrangement to be worked out under which Chiang would consult with this country on such action. This could be considered a sort of Washington-held rein on Chiang.

In London, the British Foreign Office said the Churchill government had not been consulted on the new pact but had been assured it "is purely defensive."

The guarantee of American protection does not cover the numerous Nationalist-held islands close to the Chinese Communist coast which range from 90 to 200 miles distant from Formosa.

The Reds have been attacking those islands in recent months. Chiang has wanted the United States to join in their defense, at least with air power. The United States has refused to do so.

Nationalists Rejoice at End Of Pact Signing

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China rejoiced today in the conclusion of a mutual security pact with the United States.

The impression here is that no Communist invaders will ever set foot on this 13,885-square mile island.

The pact, to be signed shortly in Washington, was hailed by official quarters, the press and the general public.

Though it does not underwrite a Nationalist comeback against Red China, the general belief is that prospects for a return to the lost mainland have been considerably enhanced.

Prof. Tao Hsi-sheng, one of President Chiang Kai-shek's senior advisers, summed up official reaction by describing the act as "a victory for the free world against aggression."

Nationalist quarters predicted the agreement would upset what they called the Communist timetable for aggression in Asia and foil Red attempts to isolate Nationalist China and the United States.

Jerry Trotter Gives Tax Figures---

Pettis Co. Assessments Amount To More Than $50 Million in '54

The tax assessments in Pettis County this year amount to more than $50 million.

This was reported by Jerry Trotter, Pettis County assessor, in a talk to the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday noon at the Bothwell Hotel.

Trotter, in his talk on tax assessments and taxes, explained the duties of the assessor, the functions of his office and how assessments are made. He also said that assessments in Pettis County in 1954 total $50,832,266.

If this tax assessment is maintained, he said, it will in five years make Pettis County a second class county instead of a third class county.

He said that Clay County has been designated a second class county only recently by virtue of its assessments being above the $50 million figure for more than five years.

In brief Trotter explained Pettis County has a total assessment of $50,832,266 as compared with in Pettis 1953, when it was $49,720,852, or an increase of $1,111,414. The increase is due greatly to the new construction throughout the county, as well as here in Sedalia.

He said the total real estate is $29,380,940, as compared with the previous year when it was $28,816,680. This includes, of course, the City of Sedalia, small towns of the county and farm lands. This was an increase of $564,260.

Total personal assessments are $10,947,760 as compared to $10,626,169, an increase of $321,591.

The two gave an increase of $885,851.

Corporations were taxed $9,109,551 as compared to $9,074,271 last year, an increase of $35,280. The advalorem tax is $1,390,170, compared with $1,270,485, an increase of $119,635.

Trotter told the group there are 1,239 horses in the county valued at $30,300, or an average valuation of $24.45; 43,735 head of cattle with a total valuation of $1,910,940, for an average of $43.62; there are 21,755 hogs valued at $371,040, averaging $17.06; and 176,502 poultry valued at $65,770 for an average of 37 cents. Farm machinery is valued at $1,305,110 and household property $1,440,790.

There were 9,142 cars in the county for 1953 as compared to 10,136 in 1954, with a valuation of $4,660,360 in 1953 as compared to $5,153,850 in 1954.

In closing he stated the tax is $1.50 city and $2.87 county, or a total of $4.37 on the $100 valuation.

Following his talk Trotter answered questions of the Lions on various areas and how the assessment structure is enforced.

Trotter was introduced by Richard Truman, acting program chairman of the meeting for Virgil Ragar, who was unable to be present.

The club voted a contribution to the St. James Boys Town, St. James, Mo., of which the Lions Clubs of Missouri take an active part in supporting.

Dr. David Robinson, president, conducted the meeting.

New Knob Noster Elementary School Is Nearly Completed

The new, $270.000 elementary school building in Knob Noster is nearly completed and may be occupied in mid-January, according to Supt J. E. Jageman.

The walls are being painted and cabinets installed and the blackboards have arrived for installation. The enterior is complete and the wiring is all done. The furniture is due Jan. 1 and will consist of 400 units. The first four grades will have separate desks and chairs, and the upper grades will have universal units — desks, with attached swivel chairs.

Laying asphalt tile on the floors will be the last job, Jageman said.

The building has 16 classrooms, a large multi-purpose room to be used as a cafeteria and playroom, two offices, a health room, rest rooms, storage and supply space and a heating plant. One wing has two stories with four classrooms upstairs and four downstairs, while the rest of the building is on one floor.

The classrooms in the two story wing are self-contained rooms for the lower grades, meaning they each have a separate rest room. The other eight classrooms do not have rest rooms, but they do have sinks and fountains.

Once the building is ready for occupation, the elementary classes in Knob Noster will be moved to it. At the present there are four elementary classes in the high school building and another four downtown—two in the basement of the Latter Day Saints Church and two in the American Legion hall. The downtown classes contain about 100 pupils.

In addition, six rural schools will be discontinued, and the children and their teachers will move to the new building in Knob Noster. These rural schools are Hopsidam, Prairie Home, Maplewood, Valley City, Lowland and Montserrat. There is also a third grade being conducted in a rural building at Brushville, and this class too, will be moved to the new building.

This will permit the high school to rearrange its classes and its schedule. For instance, there are adjoining rooms upstairs, separated by a folding door, that once were used for study halls. Lately only one has been used as a study hall while the other was used as a classroom, because of the crush of enrollment.

The influx of children from the rural schools will also mean two new school buses will have to be purchased, bringing the total to six. The routes will be rescheduled.

Norman Harr Is Found Shot Fatally Tues.

Coroner Terms Death Suicide, Found By Son, Daughter-in-law

Norman Harr, 61, Keene's Lamplighter Lodge, East Highway 50, was found shot through the right temple in his automobile in the 2500 block of East 12th at about 5 p. m. Wednesday and died at Bothwell Hospital at 5:45 p. m.

Dr. Gordon Stauffacher, who examined the body at the hospital, termed it a suicide and said no inquest would be held.

The wounded man was found by his son, Cecil, 27, and Cecil's wife, Georgia, 26, as they drove home from a visit with another son, Wayne, 30, who also lives at the Lamplighter Lodge. Cecil drove his father to the hospital in the father's car.

The victim's wife, Mrs. Irene Harr, was in Eastland, Tex., at the time of the shooting, attending a daughter, Mrs. Jack Graham, who is expecting the birth of a child shortly. Mrs. Harr was notified immediately after her husband's death and said she would return to Sedalia as quickly as possible.

Harr's family expressed shock and surprise at his action and Mrs. Georgia Harr said that there didn't seem to be any motive for it. She said that her father-in-law, who had been working at the Tecon Corp. quarry at Georgetown was admitted to Bothwell Hospital Nov. 23 for treatment of what was diagnosed as spinal arthritis but was released last Saturday and spoke Tuesday afternoon of his intention to return to work at the quarry Wednesday.

She said the elder Harr visited her at 10 a. m. Tuesday at her home, 1009 East Broadway, and borrowed Cecil's .22 target pistol for the expressed purpose of shooting some squirrels that he said had been causing damage at the Lodge. He also took a box of shells.

He returned at 2 p. m. according to previous arrangement, to watch Mrs. Harr's baby son, Michael, while she washed clothes, but the washing was already done, she said. He then told her that he was going to see Dr. Thomas J. Hopkins to have the doctor sign some insurance papers for him. That was the last he was seen, she said until he was found fatally wounded in his car.

Dr. Hopkins said that Harr did not see him about the insurance papers that afternoon. He said the first time he saw Harr that day

Fights Robbery Charge Before Magistrate In Jefferson City

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Oscar F. Barnhart, 47-year-old Columbia vacuum cleaner salesman accused of robbing a Jefferson City small loan company three times in less than a year, fought first degree robbery charges before Magistrate Foster S. Wheatly today.

Barnhart is charged with robbing the Household Finance Co. office last Dec. 7, Sept. 22 and Nov. 24. His attorney, Robert Smith of Columbia, submitted pleas of innocence on each of the three charges and tried vainly to force the state to put Barnhart's alleged written confession into the record.

James Whiteley, manager of the small loan firm who captured Barnhart on the last robbery with the help of two other persons, testified as to what happened at each of the holdups. Mrs. Betty Linhardt, a clerk who was present all three times, also testified.

Nabs Cash Register, Nets Only 20 Cents

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—A burglar broke into a filling station operated by Betty Groce last night, carried out the 100-pound cash register, and left it in a nearby alley.

His crime netted him just 20 pennies.

Jury Convicts Texan In Death Of Teen-ager

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Victor H. Lively was convicted and immediately sentenced to life imprisonment early today for first-degree murder in the slaying of 18-year-old Dorothy Poore.

A Marion County Criminal Court jury reached a verdict in the dresser drawer murder case after deliberating nine hours.

Lively, 25-year-old Texan, sobbed on the shoulder of his attorney after Judge Saul Rabb passed sentence.

The state had charged Lively violated the Clinton, Ind., girl's body after her death in the Claypool hotel room.

Lively had testified that the girl was the aggressor and had stripped off part of her clothing. He told the jury that he had blacked out and couldn't remember what happened after she removed part of his clothing and said: "Let's see what kind of a man you are."

The girl's 5-foot-8 body was found July 18, crammed into a four-foot dresser drawer of Lively's hotel room. It was partially decomposed after two days of sweltering temperatures.

Lively was picked up by police a week later at Clayton, Mo.

Proposes Reds Link Forces

Would Set Up Joint Command If Allies Ratify Agreement To Rearm Germany

MOSCOW (AP) — The eight Communist nations represented in the Soviet-sponsored European security conference called today for integration of their armed forces and establishment of a joint command if the West ratifies the Paris accords to rearm West Germany.

The conference, snubbed by the Western powers, ended its work by adoption of a declaration to this effect. The great Kremlin Palace was the stage for the formal signing late today by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and the chiefs of the visiting delegations.

Red China's observer, Chang Wen-tien, said his country threw its full support behind the eight-nation declaration.

"If the Paris agreements are ratified the peace loving countries will be obliged to undertake the new measures envisaged in the declaration," Chang said.

"The Chinese People's Republic warmly welcomes the acceptance by the Moscow conference of the declaration and the Chinese People's Republic resolutly approves and warmly supports it."

The eight European Communist-ruled nations involved in this plan for an Eastern NATO are:

The Soviet Union, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Albania.

A Russian marshal is expected to be named supreme commander.

Pravda, meanwhile, accused U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and Western newspapers of "grossly distorting the idea of the Moscow conference and the sense of speeches of the chiefs of participating delegations."

The Soviet Communist party newspaper accused U.S., British and French papers especially of trying to spread "the false idea" thatthe nations assembled in Moscow were dealing with armaments and the creation of a military bloc.

"The tune, as usual, was set by representatives of the U.S. government," Pravda said. "Dulles speaking on Nov. 29 in Chicago filled his speech with lies about 'intrigues, international communism' and praise for the aggresive military gcoupings formed by American diplomacy.

"He slanderously distorted the aim and essence of the Moscow conference. The American press repeated these slanders and blared about the 'military plans and preparations' of the Moscow parley."

Calls for Winnie's Resignation Because Of Policy In WW-2

LONDON (AP)—Left-wing Laborite Stephen Davies called today for Prime Minister Churchill's immediate resignation because he favored using German troops in the last days of World War II to halt any Russian effort to overrun Western Europe.

Davies gave notice he intends to present a motion in the House of Commons asking parliament to call on Churchill to step down for what Davies termed "a betrayal of the ideals this country fought for."

The motion is certain to be rejected. Davies himself was recently expelled from the Labor parliamentary benches for a violation of party discipline. The motion has no party support.

The motion said Churchill's recent disclosure that he ordered Field Marshal Montgomery to stack German arms for possible reissue to the Wermacht in event the Red army pushed on, explains:

"Why the Soviet Union and the People's Democracies of Eastern Europe place no trust in the sincerity of the approaches made by this government in the urgent matter of world peace."

Senate Tabs Second McCarthy Censure Count For Discard

Chairman Watkins Reluctantly Agrees As Strong Opposition Develops to Criticizing McCarthy for 'Abusing' General Zwicker

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today voted to condemn Sen. McCarthy for his attacks on its special committee that recommended he be censured and for calling the extraordinary Senate session a "lynch party."

The rollcall was 64-23.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today tabbed the second censure count against Sen. McCarthy for the discard. This is the charge that McCarthy "intemperately abused" Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker.

So much opposition developed that Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) announced he would reluctantly agree "as a practical matter" to accept an amendment substituting the pending third count for the Zwicker charge.

This third count would censure McCarthy for his attacks on the Watkins committee after it filed its report with the Senate. It is sponsored by Sen. Bennet (R-Utah).

Technically, there was no alteration in the censure amendment for the moment. The pending business before the Senate was a motion by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) to table—and thus kill outright—the Zwicker charge.

After Watkins made his announcement, the Bridges motion was defeated 55-33.

Many senators—including influential Democrats—who had voted last night to condemn McCarthy for "abusing" his colleagues had told the Senate they could not support censure on the Zwicker count. Last night's vote was 67-20.

But some of the same senators, including McClellan (D-Ark) and Russell (D-Ga), had objected to taking the course of tabling the count.

Nevertheless, the Bridges motion drew the first Democratic votes in behalf of McCarthy supporters.

Joining with 29 Republicans in the futile effort to table the Zwicker section were these four Democratic senators: Chavez (NM), Eastland (Miss) Ellender (La) and Frear (Del).

Opposing the tabling move were 40 Democrats, 14 Republicans and the lone independent, Morse of Oregon.

Immediately after the motion to table was beaten, Bennett offered an amendment which would substitute his proposed third count for the Zwicker count.

Watkins was pressed, before the vote on tabling the Zwicker count, to say if he would agree to the Bennett substitution if the motion to table were beaten.

At first he declined to say, but finally told his colleagues he would do so with reluctance.

He said he was not backing down in any way on "the principle" involved in the Zwicker count, and still felt McCarthy should be condemned for what he said to the general.

Watkins had tried vainly earlier to satisfy critics by proposing to drop the word "censure" from the Zwicker count and substitute language to the effect that the Senate disavowed and condemned McCarthy's treatment of the general.

McCarthy had Zwicker before him as a witness last February and told him, among other things, that he was not fit to wear the uniform of a general. The incident played a part in bringing on last spring's McCarthy-Army hearings.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich), a legless World War II veteran who served on the McCarthy-Army investigating committee, lashed out today at McCarthy's treatment of Zwicker and strongly backed the censure count.

Potter told the Senate "there is no greater instance by which you can destroy the reputation of a man in uniform, whether a general or a private, than to say he is unfit to wear the uniform."

Rescue Party Finds 2 Dead In Airliner

Moves 5 Survivors To Berlin Hospital 8 Miles from Scene

MILAN, N.H. (AP) — Searchers found a wrecked Northeast Airlines plane atop snow-covered Mt. Success today and two of its seven occupants—marooned since midday Tuesday in near-zero temperature—were dead.

Five survivors, including the plane's stewardess, the only woman aboard, were removed by helicopter and taken to a Berlin hospital.

A veteran flier on his day off discovered the wreckage this morning after a score of planes had flown over the vast, mountainous region the past two days without success. He is Apostolis N. Bountis, 33, of Manchester, N.H., a Trans-Ocean Airlines pilot.

Dead in the wreckage were: Co-pilot George D. McCormick, 37, of Kingston, N.Y., and John McNulty, 39, of Boston, an NEA flight superintendent, who was making a routine flight check.

The survivors are: Pilot Capt. W. Peter Carey, 37, of Swampscott, Mass., the most seriously hurt; stewardess Mary L. McEttrick, 23, of Boston; and the three passengers, James W. Harvey, 52, of Watertown, Mass.; W. Miller of Philadelphia, and Daniel H. Hall of Montclair, N.J.

All but Carey were able to walk from a helicopter which transferred them from the bleak mountaintop to the Berlin-Milan airport here, about eight miles from the scene of the crash.

Bountis estimated the plane struck the mountain about 75 feet from the summit of the 3600-foot peak. It sliced off treetops as it moved into relatively flat snow-covered ground.

Traffic Accidents Took 98 Missouri Lives During Nov.

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Traffic accidents took 98 lives in Missouri in November—the worst month of the year so far. Last year 84 died in November.

Reporting the grim figures today, the Highway Patrol said the poor November record raised the 1954 total to 872, only 37 less than the 909 killed during the first 11 months last year.

The patrol attributed the November increase to good, open weather which brought thousands of people on the highways to run the risk of death or injury.

Of the 98 killed last month, 21, an unusually high number, were pedestrians and 29 died in one-car accidents, indicating the drivers let their attention wander or lost control of their cars. Crashes involving two or more cars killed 41, four died in railroad crossing accidents, two collided with fixed objects and one hit a dog and turned over.

The patrol said the tragic November toll should help call attention to the traffic safety campaign focussed on Dec. 15—safe driving day—when the goal is to go through 24 hours without a traffic death.

Votes to Flouridate Liberty Water System

LIBERTY (AP) — The Liberty Board of Public Works today voted to flouridate the city's water supply.

The action was taken after a public hearing at which only one of the 20 persons present spoke against the introduction of flourine into the water system.

Reduction of tooth decay is claimed by proponents of the process.

Liberty is the third city in the state to provide for the use of the chemical. Richmond is flouridating its supply and St. Louis has voted to do so.

Burglars Enter Seven Stations, Garages

MOBERLY (AP)—Seven filling stations and garages in central Missouri were burglarized during the night, but the total loss was less than $200.

Highway Patrol and sheriff's officers reported three were entered at Glasgow, and one each at Gilliam, Fayette, Armstrong and Clifton Hill.

Pope Has Serious Collapse

His Physician Says He Is Conscious; Condition Is Not Alarming at Moment

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII was near death tonight.

The 78-year-old pontiff suffered a heart collapse, and complications set in. A surgeon was summoned to the Vatican and emergency X-rays taken to determine if surgery might improve the Pope's condition.

Vatican sources said there had been a rapid decline in the Pope's condition most of the day.

First came word that the Pope was suffering from acute depression. Then the Vatican press office announced a serious collapse.

Several hours later the Pope's physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, said:

"There has been a worsening of the general condition of the Holy Father. For the moment it is not alarming. He is conscious and fully lucid."

Then, later tonight, came the word that the Pope had suffered the heart collapse with complications. He had been unable to eat since last Saturday, and tonight was suffering nausea.

Digestive trouble had beset him last winter, but this summer he showed signs of recovery. He became seriously ill again last weekend.

The Pope has headed the Roman Catholic Church for the last 15 years and 10 months.

The collapse was reported tohave come at 4 p. m. (9 a. m. CST).

Unable to take food by mouth since Saturday, the Pope was extremely weak.

The Pope's private physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, who looked worn and tired this morning after a night-long vigil in the papal apartment, returned to the bedside.

The news of his sudden turn for the worse came from the Vatican.

The pontiff has been suffering from a stomach ailment and hiccups that have made it difficult for him to sleep.

He has not been able to take any food by mouth since Saturday.

Such nourishment as the pontiff has been able to take he has received indirectly.

His private physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, has spent every night this week at his bedside or in a room adjoining the Pope's chamber.

Santa Pays Unexpected Visit to Carrollton; City Pays Utility Bills

CARROLLTON (AP) — Santa Claus paid an unexpected visit to Carrollton today when the municipal utilities residential bills were delivered marked "Paid — Have a Merrier Christmas."

This gift of $10,000 is in addition to the $25,000 already given to the people of Carrollton this year in free service and cash donations to charitable and civic organizations.

The utilities board chose this as a gift to enable the people to have the $10,000 ordinarily paid the company for electric and water service, to spend in their Christmas shopping.

Crossroads Comment . . . by G.H.S.

Bashing windows out of Bob Moore's home on West Fifth street recently was bad enough from the standpoint of juvenile irresponsibility — drat that word, delinquency — but the episode of smashing 63 windows of the new Wesley Methodist church on West Broadway justifies even more forceful expression of indignation.

Certainly kids will be kids, but this window breaking mania is exhausting the patience of tolerance. Identifying youthful culprits who have developed a phobia for window-breaking should not be too difficu" by routine investigation on the basis of what knowledge is already available.

When the boys are found out, modern parental behavior will probably dictate only a stern lecture in order not to upset the nervous balance of the guilty adolescents.

Despite so-called modern techniques of stressing obedience and morality in children, the good, old fashioned handy paddle, once kept in the house or shed, has done more for society than the psychological approach used today.

Most members of the older generation have not yet gone nuts because of memory of the time they swiped watermelons from in front of Major Coleman's grocery on Ohio Street in 1906, broke windows, or disputed the authority of the head of the house, in exchange for which they received a deserved thrashing and were restricted to the domestic premises for a month even though a circus came to town.

There are times for lectures and times for paddling. But it's time parents accepted individual responsibility to curb the defiance of the new deal juveniles. Perhaps a whack or two will help.

Senators Agree New Security Pact Lessens Chance of Hostilities Between Reds and US

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) today hailed the new security pact between the United States and Nationalist China as a "warning to the Chinese Communists" that the United States "means business."

Smith and some other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said too that the newly announced pact would lessen, not increase, any chance for hostilities with Red China—either as a result of the Communist action against offshore islands near Formosa or because of the imprisonment of Americans on spying charges.

Secretary of State Dulles, announcing the mutual security treaty yesterday, said it would be signed with the Formosa-headquartered Chiang Kai-shek government within the next few days. It is expected to be sent to the Senate for ratification early next year.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), one of the four Foreign Relations Committee members interviewed today, said:

"The new treaty with Formosa (Nationalist China) shows the Chinese Communists with great definiteness that we will resist firmly and powerfully any action against Formosa. The lack of a definite treaty would more likely have led to hostilities than the fact there now is one."

The pact demands immediate consultation between Nationalist China and this nation on joint action in the event of any attack on either.

Ferguson noted it does not commit the United States to automatic war should an act of hostility, falling within the pact, take place against Formosa.

Meanwhile, a slight hardening of attitude was evident among some senators who have consistently supported the administration's "short-of-war" position on freeing 13 Americans, now in Chinese Communist jails on spying charges.

Smith and Ferguson refused to stand with Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), the majority leader, Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and some others who say that the United States should immediately throw up a tight naval blockade around China's mainland.

But Ferguson said: "I do not rule out the possibility of a blockade if all other measures fail."

Chiang Delegate Says Reds Jailed Americans To Exact Concessions

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Dr. George Yeh, foreign minister of Nationalist China, says Red China jailed 13 Americans on spy charges "to exact concessions."

Yeh, Nationalist delegate to the U.N., told a Chamber of Commerce dinner last night:

"My personal feeling is that they are creating a situation for some neutralist country to step in and mediate and in the process of mediation they would present some counterproposal in order to exact concessions."

Put Your House In Its Holiday Party Dress

There's no time of year when your house can look prettier than when it's lighted up for the holidays. Most of us would say, on first thought that most houses put their best foot forward during the summer when grass is green and flowers blooming. Compare the pictures above of a house as it looks in all its mid-summer beauty and then, see how it dresses for the holidays.

Actually, no one would really choose between summer beauty and holiday festivity but, the summer picture does offer a practical lighting suggestion. Use a snapshot of your house to help guide you in putting up Christmas decorations. Look over the wide variety of ready-made lighted decorations and, as you study your house, visualize the items in your setting. It's much more comfortable than standing outdoors while you gaze at your abode.

General Electric lighting specialists point out that following the architectural lines of your house is one good guide to follow in placing outdoor Christmas lights. When the lights are few and far between, naturally the effect will be less spectacular than when they are placed closer together.

The home pictured above has new C-7½ Christmas lamps in outdoor-type sockets. These new bulbs which can't fade, peel or chip have a newly designed filament which gives them a smooth, even color when lighted. Not only are the colors brighter but these small bulbs use ten per cent less current so they burn cooler.

Although you may not be able to see it in the photograph above, lights, hung on small brass cup hooks, are placed about four inches apart. If your present supply of outdoor lig ts won't allow you to place them this close together, keep it in mind so when you add other strings next year you can place lights closer together.

Just as no cake looks festive without decorations, the lighted plastic outdoor lamp posts extend an old fashioned greeting at the doorway. An outdoor weatherproof spotlight concealed in the shrubbery adds highlights and shadows to the doorway.

A jolly illuminated walking Santa complete with toy pack adds his merry touch to the setting.

As pretty as it is practical is the tinsel tree in the picture window. Pretty from outdoors as well as indoors this "flat up against the window" tree saves precious space in the small living room. Simply string strands of colored tinsel over a hook at the center top of the window and fasten each strand to the floor. Secret of its three-dimensional effect is a pair of 150-watt pink color reflector bulbs in holders on the floor beneath the tree. Place the holders in the middle of each half section of the "tree" and aim the bulbs upward. Holders are completely wired and can be plugged into nearest electrical outlet. For another interesting effect, entwine strings of Christmas lights into the tinsel strands for a lighted "tree" effect. Of course, you can always use your egular Christmas tree in the center of the window.

Gen. Twining Says US Leads Russia In Arms

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, says the United States is ahead of Russia in the armament race and its best chance for peace is "to stay there."

He told an American Ordnance Assn. dinner last night:

"Only if we give them (the Soviets) reason to believe that the freedom which was fought for at Valley Forge, at Verdun, at Tarawa and at Taegu is no longer worth the cost of battle—only then will they feel free to attack."

Indian Interne Pays Fine For Speeding, Says He Had to Try It

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Murlidhar Sahumo, an interne from India, told Traffic Judge John D. Watts yesterday he was so "intrigued" by a Detroit expressway he "just had to speed."

He was arrested for driving 85 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone on the John C. Lodge Expressway.

"I was not going 85 but I will admit to 70," said Dr. Sahumo. "The open feeling on the expressway intrigued me. We do not have roads like these in India. They are beautiful, almost unbelievable."

Judge Watts fined him $25 for reckless driving.

Predicts a Comeback For Turkey; Describes Reconstruction Work

ESKISEHIR, Turkey (AP)—Prime Minister Adnan Menderes says Turkey will overcome current shortages and become a land of plenty in two or three years.

Four sugar refineries have been built in the last two years and four more are under construction, Menderes reported, with the result recent sugar shortages should not happen again. He believes Turkey will be a sugar exporter by 1956.

The Prime Minister cited these other developments:

Seven of Turkey's ports are being reconstructed.

Seven great dams are being built and various power plants are being erected. Irrigation works are also being advanced and soon "no village or district will lack water or electricity."

New processing plants for meat, fish, wheat, macaroni and canned goods are being constructed.

Cement production has jumped from 300,000 tons annually in 1950 to one million toda . By 1956 capacity will be 2½ million tons.

The textile industry will have a million spindles in 1955, compared to 250,000 in 1950.

Court Needs Recess For Odd Inquiry

DALLAS (AP)—The rent hadn't been paid, a landlady complained in Justice Court yesterday. She sought an order forcing the defendant to move.

But she had been paid, the defendant said—"Paid her with a quart of whisky."

"I don't remember it," the landlady said.

"Sure," said the defendant. "She drank the whisky and passed out."

Court was recessed pending an investigation.

Overrules Defense Move To Acquit

CLEVELAND (AP)—The judge in the Sheppard murder trial overruled today defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal.

"This is not a case that can be disposed of by the court," Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin said as the session opened.

Therefore, he said, the various motions made yesterday by the defense to dismiss the murder charges against Dr. Samuel Sheppard would be overruled.

Judge Blythin said his decision did not mean that he has any opinion "or even right to have an opinion" as to the guilt or innocence of the accused osteopath.

Sheppard, 31, is charged with first degree murder in the bludgeoning of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, also 31, in her bed at their lakefront home last July 4.

The effect of the judge's ruling against the defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal or dismissal of the indictment was to leave the question of the handsome defendant's guilt or innocence for the jury of seven men and five women.

The defense then proceeded with its case, calling as its first witness Dr. Stephen Sheppard, elder brother of the defendant. Dr. Steve, one of three osteopath brothers who practice with their father, has been the only relative of the defendant allowed in court during the trial, now near the end of its seventh week.

The state concluded its case yesterday morning, calling as its 30th and final witness pretty Susan Hayes. She told of sharing a bed with Dr. Sam, and receiving a ring and a watch from him, and she said he told her he loved her and was "thinking of divorce."

Defense lawyers in arguing yesterday that Dr. Sheppard be freed on grounds the state had failed to establish a motive or link him closely with the murder, gave several hints as to the nature of their side of the case.

One was a startling suggestion that whoever attacked the 31-year-old matron intended, not to kill her, but to disfigure her.

The defense keeps implying that a woman may be involved in the savage beating.

This thesis emerged in points emphasized by defense lawyers as they called for a directed verdict of innocence. They insisted—

1. That the state must explain a fleck of fingernail polish.

It was found in microscopic examination of scrapings from under Marilyn Sheppard's fingernails. She was not wearing any polish on her fingers the night of the murder.

2. That she died from blood in her lungs, not from the blows on her head.

Atty. William J. Corrigan, his voice rising with emphasis, said the vital areas of her skull were not fractured. He contended, "This seems to indicate a disfigurement was intended."

3. That she may have been struck only a few times, even though 35 wounds were counted on her head and face.

An attorney said "there wouldn't have been time" for someone to bludgeon Mrs. Sheppard 35 times before her husband, coming from the living room below, would have reached her. Moreover, he said, the wounds were "equidistant," evenly spaced about an inch apart. The uniformity of this pattern by accident he said, "strains the bounds of possibility". He concluded that a "multipronged instrument" would account for the even spacing, and that Mrs. Sheppard actually may have been struck "only two, three or four times." The defense has indicated it believes a garden rake may have been the instrument.

A camel has been known to drink 30 gallons of water in 10 minutes.

Harr

was when he was called to render emergency treatment to the wounded man Tuesday night.

Mrs. Harr said it was during the second visit Tuesday afternoon that Harr said he intended to go back to work at the quarry Wednesday, that he was feeling well enough to do it.

She said, however, that on Monday her father-in-law had said that he was worried about the condition of his lungs and wished someone would question his doctor about it. Mrs. Harr said that Dr. Hopkins had treated Harr for his arthritis last week and had said at that time that Harr need not worry about his lungs, that they appeared to be all right according to an X-Ray taken at that time. Dr. Hopkins confirmed this Tuesday night.

Mrs. Harr was the first to spot the wounded man sitting in his car with his head tipped back against the seat. She said the car's lights were on and the engine was running. Cecil tried to drive it, she said, but it stalled. When he tried to start it again, he discovered the ignition key was missing. It took several minutes and the aid of other people who gathered around the scene to find the key in the glove compartment, she said.

While Cecil drove his father to the hospital, Mrs. Harr drove to the Lamplighter Lodge to notify Wayne of his father's condition.

Police said the pistol contained eight rounds, three of which had been fired. Dr. Hopkins said only one bullet entered Harr's temple.

The body was removed to the Gillespie Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Survivors other than the widow are: the two sons, Cecil and Wayne; three daughters, Mrs. Graham in Texas, Mrs. Keith Rasmussen, San Francisco, Calif., and Mrs. Harold Peterson, Armstrong, Ia.; eight grandchildren; a brother, Robin Harr, Armstrong, Ia.; and a sister, Mrs. Hattie Godden, Fairmont, Minn.

Double Cousins Have Birthdays Together

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) —Away back in 1863 the Kaiser brothers, Oris and Joseph, married the Herbrandt sisters, Elizabeth and Philobeus, in a double ceremony.

And 11 years later, on Dec. 2, a beaming Oris started to town from his farm to brag to Joseph about the birth of a strapping son, named Paul.

At practically the same time, Joseph left for his brother's home with the news that he had a brand new son, Phillip. The fathers met midway.

Today, double cousins, Paul B. Kaiser and Philip E. Kaiser celebrated their 80th birthdays together. They've lived in or near Jefferson City all their lives.

Britain Asks Red China To Use Care

LONDON (AP) — Britain disclosed today she has urged Red China to avoid "precipitate" action in the Formosan Strait that might lead to war with the United States.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the policy of moderation was urged on the Peiping regime in consultations with Communist China's charge d'affaires in London, Huan Hsiang.

The spokesman said Britain has also asked the United States to use its influence in forestalling any provocative action by the Chinese Nationalists of Chiang Kai-shek.

The spokesman — replying to questions regarding the new security pact between the United States and the Formos regime—said the advice was given to both the United States and Red China in keeping with "her majesty's government's policy towards the islands off the Chinese coast, which has been to urge on all concerned the dangers of fighting, the importance of lowering tension and of avoiding precipitate action."

Britain maintains diplomatic relations with Communist China.

British informants disclosed U.S. Secretary of State Dulles consulted with British representatives before making his statement yesterday announcing the new pact with Chiang Kai-shek.

A copy of the statement was reported made available to the Churchill government several days in advance.

British officials privately hope the new Formosa security pact will result in the United States exercising a restraining influence on Chiang's forces. This was reflected in a Foreign Office statement last night.

Tells Church Council 100,000 Refugees Look to Clergy for Aid

BOSTON (AP)—The National Council of Churches was told today that 100,000 refugees in other lands are looking to U.S. churches for help in making new homes here.

Before the churches now is the problem of how to render that assistance.

The resettlement question was placed before 2,500 delegates representing 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations at the biennial general assembly of the National Council.

Awaiting action was a resolution calling on "our constituent churches to give full and prompt support to their denominational agencies and to the Department of Church World Service by providing all possible resettlement opportunities for the homeless and oppressed who look to our Christian churches for assurances . . ."

Roland Elliott, of Marlboro, N.H., director of immigration for the Church World Service, the council's relief and resettlement division, told delegates yesterday:

"U.S. churches made a promise two years ago to the homeless of other countries, offering them new life in America. Now the time has come when the churches can fulfill their promise."

Says Global War Would Bring Horror

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's mayors were told by the Continental Air Defense commander today that the outbreak of a global war could mean "100 pinpointed minutes of atomic hell on earth" for a hundred big American cities.

Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw posed this frightening possibility, saying it is the United States which stands "the most likely chance of aerial blow" before Russia strikes anywhere else in starting a full scale war.

Chidlaw's remarks were prepared for the more than 200 mayors and city managers from the 48 states and territories gathered for briefings on the nation's foreign and defense policies.

President Eisenhower, who issued the invitations for the two-day series of meetings, arranged to greet the group with an informal speech.

His talk was scheduled for 9:50 a.m. EST.

Aside from the President's talk, the sessions were scheduled to take place behind closed doors, although some speeches such as Chidlaw's are being made public. After each speech the meeting was to switch to questions and discussion.

The Mayors' Conference is the second of its kind.

Last year's conference developed a sharp dispute among the mayors and government leaders over the role the federal government should play in civil defense in an atomic emergency. Eisenhower told that meeting that the cities should shoulder the main burden.

Meanwhile, the National Security Council, which last year's conference asked to review the civil defense subject, and the Federal Civil Defense Administration have made what FCDA officials describe as "much progress" in working out plans. The FCDA is now stressing evacuation measures.

Chidlaw appealed for civic understanding of the problems of air defense, including the noise nuisance of jet fighter planes and the admitted danger of their operations and high explosive loads.

He added:

"To our possible enemies . . . who sit at their planning tables to compuete a schedule of takeoff times for their existing bomber fleets, the 100 biggest cities represented here by you. . .may mean to them only those aerial forces and weapons required to produce the 100 pinpointed minutes of atomic hell on earth necessary for their destruction."

Veteran Dies Getting Dancer Some Publicity

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The burlesque show at the New Follies Theater went on as scheduled last night.

Red-haired toe dancer Loretta Miller wore a black ribbon in her hair as she appeared. That was the last request of Roger Wing Whittier, 26, a Korean War veteran from Gold Beach, Ore.

Whittier had fulfilled his final pledge—to get her lots of publicity. He was killed at the theater by two bullets, one from his own gun, the other from police, who returned fire, they said, after he first shot once at them.

The man died on stage at dawn clutching photos of Miss Miller. Written on one showing her in ballet costume were the words: "Angel Face: All I can do is worship you. Goodbye. Roger."

The shapely Miss Miller, 25, said she had never met the man but had received two letters and bouquets of roses from him.

The strange drama began shortly after 5 a.m. yesterday when a man telephoned The Associated Press.

"I broke into the New Follies burlesque a couple hours ago," he told me. "I'm in love with a dancer there, Loretta Miller.

"I want to get her publicity. I want to get her picture in every paper in the country.

"Call the police and come over here. But you be careful. I'm armed."

I called the detective bureau.

Two detectives and two officers entered the theater with a portable floodlight. A man onstage was caught in its glare.

Police said he fired twice with a .32 automatic. The first was at the light and the second struck him in the head. The officers returned fire.

The stage floor bore printed testimonials of his infatuation: "Dear Loretta, just to hold you in my arms. . .My red-headed angel. . ."

Miss Miller previously had reported to police that she received two letters signed, "Roger." One said:

"My plan is to go backstage just as the last show ends. With my automatic in my hand I shall attempt to fight my way to you. . . At most I want to hold you in my arms. . .I mean you no harm and wouldn't hurt you for the world."

He never carried out that plan.

The second note to the dancer said in part, "If you happen to read or hear of a guy named Roger coming to a violent end, please pin a little piece of black to your costume."

Miss Miller did that and commented:

"The poor guy."

Picks Wrong Auto For His Escape Try

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A motorist driving near the sheriff's honor farm picked up a ride-thumber yesterday.

The passenger told the driver: "You're taking a chance picking me up. I'm running away from this place."

The driver, Deputy Sheriff Walter Doughty, said nothing but drove right to the honor farm office and turned in his passenger. He was identified as Frank Joseph Nemcek, 23, who since last March 8 had been serving one year as part of five years' probation on a robbery charge.

Nemcek, who said his home was in Portland, Ore., was booked anew on an escape charge.

Couple Is Married To the Accompaniment Of Sanding Machine

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — The first wedding in the new Bannock County Courthouse was performed yesterday to the accompaniment of music from a sanding machine and decorations by the Pocatello Painters Union.

The bride was Charlene Gay Parris, of Virginia, Idaho. She was dressed in white and red accessories. The groom was William Arthur Gunter, of Arimo.

When they appeared to be married they found the old county courthouse, which was built in the 1890s, being torn down. County Commission Chairman Cantril Neilson said he thought the old building unsatisfactory for a wedding arranged for it in a room in the nearly completed first floor of the new building.

Barrymore had lived at the home of Miss Wheeler for the last 18 years. She also nursed his wife, actress Irene Fenwick, in her final illness.

Police Find Theft Suspect Walking Bank And Grocery Store

BALTIMORE (AP)—Emile P. Gow, 55, a factory worker, was arrested here last night and charged with stealing $5. When police searched him before locking him up for the night, they found:

Wads of bills in every pocket—total cash, $495, five bank books showing deposits of $10,000, an uncashed $42 check and six $25 savings bonds.

Also inside his money belt was a jar of jam and some crackers, tooth brush, shaving gear, a bottle of iodine, adhesive bandages and cotton.

August Hoffman told police he had cashed a check in a supermarket when he dropped the $5 on the floor. He said Gow picked up the bill, but instead of returning it, he stuck it into his pocket and headed for the street. Gow denied the theft charge.

Ike Nominees Are Lined Up For Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's nominations of a new atomic energy commissioner and two high defense officials were lined up for possible Senate action today at the windup of the session called to consider censure charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Also awaiting Senate consideration were promotions for more than 10,000 military officers.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R - Iowa), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, told the Senate last night he would ask, possibly today, for confirmation of Dr. Willard F. Libby to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. Dr. Libby is on leave from the University of Chicago.

Hickenlooper said Democratic senators on the committee had dropped their opposition to Libby's confirmation. The Republican Senate leadership has agreed not to bring up at this session any nomination considered controversial.

The Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday cleared the way for Senate action on the military promotions and on the nominations of Carter Lane Burgess of South Carolina, as Assistant Secretary of Defense and David S. Smith as Assistant Secretary of the Air Force. Both are now at work in charge of manpower and personnel affairs for their respective agencies.

Democratic opposition to the Libby nomination was intertwined with the controversy over the Dixon-Yates private power contract for the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

Libby testified at a committee hearing Nov. 18 that he is not familiar with the details of the contract, but that he favors it in general.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said then that "as long as the AEC is going to be in the power business, I'm going to oppose any member who doesn't have the qualifications to "run a power generating plant or pass on questions involved in the power brokerage business."

Yesterday, Kefauver dropped his opposition, saying the five-member AEC has only two sitting members and needs a quorum to operate.

Clears An Obstacle To Firing of Three UNESCO Employees

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The UNESCO Administrative Commission has authorized Director General Luther H. Evans to dismiss staff members "lacking the highest standards of integrity." The action cleared one obstacle to Evans' firing of three American employes who refused to answer U.S. loyalty board questions.

The commission last night approved a series of amendments to staff regulations which Evans — an American citizen — had proposed as a result of a running argument with Washington officials over the trio.

UNESCO sources said the director general is now expected to dismiss all three if a special advisory board concurs. Evans had claimed he lacked authority to fire them.

Gaily Decorated Home Says 'Merry Christmas' to Guests

There is nothing that quite captures the friendly spirit of Christmas like decorating your home for the holidays. The gayety and good will of the family are expressed for all friends and callers to share. Your gaily bedecked home wishes a Merry Christmas to all who enter.

Be wise and don't put off your decorating plans until the last minute. Then they become a chore instead of the family fun they should be. Instead, plan them early and let the whole family contribute ideas . . . perhaps make some of the decorations. Then your home will truly reflect the joyous spirit of the holidays.

In every home, the fragrant, beautifully - decorated Christmas tree is the most important part of your holiday decorations! It should be placed where it dominates the room and it is doubly effective if it is in front of a window so that its twinkling lights will send out a cheery Christmas greeting to all who pass your home.

Decorating the tree is a matter of family preference and tradition. Most families have ornaments that have been kept for years and are brought out with fond remembrance. So, use ornaments and lights all the same color, string popcorn for a gala tree with multi-color lights and a family collection of brightly colored ornaments, or tie red bows on a stark, white tree—whatever has become your family tradition.

Since your mantel is usually the focal point of your living room, it is wise to plan your mantel decor first and let it set the theme for your decorations.

If your home is traditional or if you love an old-fashioned Christmas, in its fullest sense, holiday greens, red candles, and holly are sure to play a large part in your decorating plans.

There is no lovelier Christmas mantel than one that is covered with evergreen boughs and lighted with red candles. Tuck bright ornaments, springs of holly, or Christmas berries into the deep green of the boughs. It is very effective if the red tapers are graduated in size to the ends of the mantel.

If your home hasn't a mantel, the top of the book shelves, a chest, or a table can be dramatized by an arrangement of candles and green boughs. Or use a tall madonna or Christmas angel figurine in an arrangement of greens or flowers.

Flowers are often overlooked in planning holiday decorations. Try adding huge white chrysanthemums to an arrangement of greenery and red berries for a striking effect.

For the modern home, the dramatic or unusual seems to be the preference. Try painting stark twigs with gilt, silver, or white and trimming them with multi-color balls. For your mantel, use black wire reindeer or a black wire tree holding shining ornaments.

Fashion a huge Christmas card out of cardboard that bears the message "Merry Christmas" in large letters. Tack it on your front door for a cheery holiday greeting to all.

Visit shops and watch for modern candles, distinctive baskets, or foreign bottles and let your imagination take over!

Highway Commission Moves to Condemn Land for Expressway

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Missouri State Highway Commission filed suit in Circuit Court yesterday to condemn part of the right-of-way for the controversial Daniel Boone expressway.

The suit asks that commissioners be appointed to fix value of the property so that the state can take title and go ahead with construction.

The expressway, as approved by the commission, would connect the present terminus of the highway (U. S. 40) at Eager Road and Brentwood through Richmond Heights. Suburban Richmond Heights is fighting the location of the route.

Testifies He Chose to Shun Labor Payoff

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Turner White Jr., vice president and general manager of a private power combine, has testified he made the decision not to make a $1,030,000 payoff to AFL leader Evan Dale in exchange for labor peace on a Joppa, Ill., power plant construction job.

White, of Metropolis, Ill., told a Federal Court jury yesterday: "it was my decision not to pay money for such purposes."

Electric Energ Inc., the power firm, is a combinet of five utilities building a steam electric generating plant at Joppa to supply power to an Atomic Energy Commission plant in Kentucky.

Dale, head of the AFL Laborers Union in southern Illinois, and James Bateman, business representative of an AFL Pipefitters local at Murphysboro, Ill., are on trial here on labor racketeering charges.

White, who said the decision was reached at a St. Louis conference in 1951, testified that three officials of Ebasco Services Inc., of New York, first general contractor engaged to build the plant, reported to him that Dale had made demands for money.

"Isn't it a fact that they told you on that occasion that Evan Dale had demanded one per cent of them?" a government prosecutor asked.

"That's true," White replied.

Under cross examination, White said Dale made no direct threats to him. White was then asked whether any indirect threats were made.

White said he was first informed of the alleged demand by Edward Marselli, assistant plant superintendent for the combine at the St. Louis meeting.

Marselli has testified that Dale had sent him to Thomas J. Scott of the Maxon Construction Co., a subcontractor at Joppa. Scott told him, Marselli said, that Dale had agreed to insure labor peace for one per cent of the cost of the job.

Both Dale, of Carbondale, Ill., and Bateman are charged with attempting to extort $1,030,000 from Ebasco and Dale is charged alone with extorting $7,500 from the Maxon firm.

Roosevelt (pat) Patrick, labor relations representative of Electric Energy Inc., testified late yesterday about a jurisdictional dispute which halted installation of a control panel at the Joppa project in 1953.

Patrick said Bateman told company officials one way the dispute could be settled would be a payment of $1,500 to his "union local social fund."

Third-Termers Will Lead Party House Battles

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Two third termers will lead the party battles in the 1955 Missouri House of Representatives. And neither one is bashful about speaking his mind.

For the majority Democrats it will be Rep. Mer H. Avery of Troy, in Lincoln County. A lawyer, he is 54 and a veteran of both World Wars. Last session he introduced the Administration's appropriation bills in a battle with the Republican controlled appropriations committee.

For the Republicans, it will be Rep. Samuel B. Murphy, 36, of Kirkwood in St. Louis County. He was elected yesterday by acclamation at the GOP caucus. Murphy, also a lawyer, was a Federal Burea of Investigation agent from 1941 to 1946.

The majority floor leader's job is to steer his party's legislative program to passage. The minority floor leader heads the opposition, nipping at the heels of the majority spokesman.

Republican House members also elected a party whip to help keep attendance up and round up the votes on roll calls. The New job went to Rep. Olen Deckard of Douglas County.

Elected GOP caucus chairman was Rep. Martin L. Degenhardt of Perry County. Rep. Ben C. Ridder of Gasconade County was chosen caucus secretary.

In a brief policy statement the Republicans pledged cooperation in reforming the state penal system and urged a modern mental health program.

Noel Field's Daughter Goes To Better Camp

LONDON (AP)—A friend of the last missing member of the Field family, Noel Field's foster daughter, reported today that the Soviets have transferred the 31-year-old German-born woman to a "much better" labor camp.

Mrs. Erika Glaser Wallach disappeared in Berlin in August 1950 while seeking information of her foster father, Noel Field, his wife Herta and his brother Hermann were released recently after five years in Communist prisons in Hungary and Poland on spy charges.

The Communists, in freeing the Fields, said the spy charges against them were unsubstantiated but made no mention of Mrs. Wallach. Several days ago a former Soviet prisoner reported to a Hamburg newspaper that she was serving a 15-year sentence in the notorious Siberian labor camp at Vorkuta.

Erika's friend, American-born Mrs. Leah Manning, of Essex, wrote in an open letter today to the News Chronicle: "Through International Red Cross contacts that now have been established, Erika has been removed to a much better camp and has received and sent letters to her mother, Mrs. Glaser." Mrs. Manning said Mrs. Glaser is living in England.

Appealing to the British government to seek Mrs. Wallach's release, Mrs. Manning added:

"Erika is stateless and neither British nor American authorities are willing to receive her or make representations to the Russians on her behalf . . . Dr. Glaser (Erika's father), now dead, and Mrs. Glaser have lived here since 1939. Her brother Kurt, who was my ward, lived here nearly all his life and died in the service of England. He was killed returning from a dawn patrol on the last day of the war."

Mrs. Wallach lost her orignal German citizenship when Field adopted her, and has never acquired any other. She is the wife of an American and the mother of two young children. Mrs. Manning said she had been lured to Berlin in 1950 "on the promise that she would see the Fields."

Radiomen Leave Jobs In Anger at 'Abrupt' Contract Cancellation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—CIO radiomen, angered by what they called an abrupt cancellation of their contract, walked off their jobs at 12:01 a.m. today, tieing up West Coast shipping.

Philip O'Rourke, vice president of the CIO American Radio Assn., estimated the strike will affect 200 merchant ships operated by members of the Pacific Maritime Assn.

He said approximately 170 of those vessels are at sea and will not be affected until they reach port. The rest are in West Coast ports and won't move until the dispute is settled, he said.

He said the union is planning court acion charging the PMA with breaking the contract, which he said was negotiated and ratified last June.

William Steinberg, ARA president, said the strike was called yesterday after the owners notified him they will not honor the contract.

Intercoastal ships operating under East Coast contracts, tankers and steam schooners are not involved.

Picks Henderson As Deputy State Undersecretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today picked Loy W. Henderson, now ambassador to Iran, to be deput undersecretary of state for administration.

His nomination will be formally submitted to the Senate when the new Congress convenes in January.

The White House said Henderson will return from Iran the latter part of this month and that a successor as ambassador will be named in the near future.

The White House also announced:

1. That the President has accepted the resignation of Ross Rizley of Guymon, Okla., as assistant secretary of agriculture and as a member of the board of directors of the Commodity Credit Corp. The resignation is effective Dec. 16.

The White House gave no reason why Rizley, a Republican and a former member of Congress, is leaving the agriculture department but it was learned that he is in line for appointment to another federal job.

2. That the chief executive has written to Jefferson Caffery, retiring ambassador to Egypt, praising him for serving the country "with exceptional diplomatic skill and ability in all the major areas of the world."

Affery is retiring from the diplomatic service after 29 years as chief of a diplomatic mission. He is being succeeded in Egypt by Henry A. Byroade, now an assistant secretary of state.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Agnes Birkhead, Kansas City, and a son, Kenneth Birkhead, executive assistant to Senator Earle C. Clements of Kentucky.

Detroit Newspaper Lauds Former Children's Librarian in Sedalia

A feature article on Miss Lavila Smart, who was children's librarian in the Sedalia Public Library in the 1940's, appeared in the Detroit Times, Detroit, Mich., recently, along with her picture.

The article, written by Jean Whitehead, is also about another Detroit woman and begins with:

"The day on which Teacher Emma Green or Librarian Lavila E. Smart don't put their typewriters into fast-clacking motion after working hours is a rarity indeed.

"These two women, like many others in their respective professions, have the happy talent of turning ideas—anything from fiction to the how-to-do type of thing—into print, and part of their success may be due to their philosophy that it is as much for the fun involved and the desire to share these brain-children, as for the checks that come their way.

"The November issue of 'The Instructor,' a slick magazine beamed especially to educators, contains their latest efforts — a picture story on art work with copper by Mrs. Green and an article, "The Public Library and the Teacher Work Together," by Miss Smart.

In telling of Miss Smart, the article continues:

"Whenever Lavila Smart, head of the children's department at the Hamtramck Public Library, goes shopping at a super market, she is certain to be hailed by a very young friend who may point a finger at her and declare: 'I know you. You're the liberry lady.'

"In Miss Smart's opinion, this is one of the nicest tributes she could possibly receive, for it means that her work in the library and in the schools where she conducts story hours and book talks, is making the impression she strives for among her youngsters.

"It was her love of reading and the lack of library facilities in the small Minnesota town of her childhood that inspired Miss Smart to choose her profession.

"Now part of her many duties includes the ordering and reading of all new books for the youth department. She says.

"'Children are very discerning individuals, and they'll demand to know the meat of any book you recommend, not just a skimmed version of it.'

"Miss Smart first broke into print with a birthday tale, containing a lively jingle, which she had written for use in the library. Since then, she has seen her poems, plays, short stories and articles appear in more than a dozen publications.

"'The Instructor' article grew out of a summer workshop at which Miss Smart was asked to teach. Soon to appear in another magazine is a story about the Christmas of Polish children.

"When she isn't readin or writing, this petite librarian turns her talents to embroidering exquisite pieces for holiday gifts.

"She also confesses to a secret ambition which she hopes some day to bring to fruition. She explains:

"'So many parents request books of stories to read to sick children or at bedtime. There just aren't too many of these, and I'd like to turn out a collection some day.'

"Judging from her past performance, Miss Smart is certain to succeed in this venture."

Miss Smart left Sedalia to become head librarian at the Rolla Public Library. After two years there she offered to enter the Holy Cross Sisterhood at Notre Dame, Ind., but her health was not equal to the rigid schedule of the cloister, so she then took over as children's librarian in the public library in Anderson, Ind. In the fall of 1952 she became children's librarian at the Hamtramck Public Library. She will have a story in the December issue of "The Instructor" and a religious story in the December "Family Digest," a Catholic publication.

Medical Society Votes To Admit Dr. Sander, Acquitted of Murder

EXETER, N.H. (AP)—The Rockingham County Medical Society last night unanimously voted to accept Dr. Hermann N. Sander, acquitted in 1950 in the death of a cancer patient, as a member.

This makes Dr. Sander eligible to apply to any hospital in the state for staff privileges, a right he lost when he was dropped as a member of the Hillsborough County Medical Society after his trial.

The 45-year-old Candia, N.H., physician was acquitted on a charge of murder after the state had accused him of causing the death of Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto, incurably ill of cancer, by injecting air into her veins.

Indicts 3 Prisoners For Murder In Death Of William Remington

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted three prisoners at Lewisburg (Pa) Penitentiary on a general charge of murder in the slaying of former government economist William W. Remington.

No date has been set for trial of the three — Lewis Cagle Jr., 17, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Robert Carl Parker, 21, Washington; and George Junior McCoy, 34, Grundy, Va.

Remington, 37, a prisoner at the penitentiary, was assaulted with a half-brick stuffed in a stocking Nov. 22. He was serving a sentence for perjury in denying he passed government secrets to a Communist spy ring. He died Nov. 24.

Cagle was quoted by prison officials as saying the motive was robbery.

BOSTON (AP)—The 6,500-ton Navy icebreaker Atka headed southward today carrying civilian and government specialists towards the antarctic.

The 269-foot vessel commanded by Cmdr. Glen Jacobsen, of Seattle, Wash., left Boston yesterday on a five-month expedition.

Chief purpose of the voyage, first U.S. expedition toward Little America in seven years, is to make preliminary scientific surveys in preparation for a larger expedition planned for the International Geophysical Year in 1957-58, in which 38 nations will participate.

Announces Two-Way Diphtheria and Tetanus Injection for Adults

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Army researcher has announced a double-action injection against both diptheria and lockjaw for adults.

Dr. Geoffrey Edsall, chief immunologist of the Army Medical Service Graduate School, told the Association of Military Surgeons that it might eventually be possible to put almost all available protective injections against other diseases into "one jumbo shot."

Test Tube Explodes, Injuring 4 Students

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A chemical-filled test tube exploded with a roar of flames and injured four pupils in a study hall at nearby Ridley Park High School yesterday.

Gordon Ziegler and Thomas Stiles, both 16, were seriously injured by flying glass. There were 30 pupils in the room.

Treated for cuts were John Pierson and Betty Clark, both 16.

School officials said the test tube was held under a desk in the rear of the room by an unnamed pupil.

There was no explanation where he got the chemicals.

Tightens Supervision Of Exports of Metal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department has announced it is tightening supervision of iron and steel scrap exports "to guard against undue strain on supplies for domestic consumption."

Recipe for a Good Hot Breakfast...

This man can't tell whether you prefer toast or biscuits . . . but he does know that every morning your demand for gas service will jump at breakfast time. And he knows the gas had better be there!

He's our dispatcher — the man who controls the pressures in our pipeline and determines how much gas must be delivered to the distributor — your local gas company — to meet your needs.

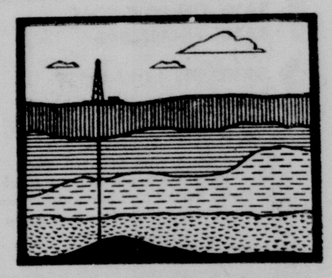
When the temperature drops suddenly, or in the early morning hours when you turn up your gas furnace, the demand becomes tremendous. And to satisfy the demand, he and many of his fellow Cities Service pipeliners are at their stations around the clock to make certain you will not be disappointed.

Cities Service Gas Company and predecessor companies have served the same general marketing area for the past 50 years. We have seen this area grow, and have been proud to take part in its development year by year. For example, in 1954 we are investing approximately $11,000,000 to help assure this continuing growth . . . and this brings our total investment to $166,000,000 for pipeline, compressor stations and other facilities needed to bring you dependable supplies of natural gas. And back of your gas service is a great gas industry "team"!

First, the producer finds and brings the gas to the surface; Cities Service, the pipeliner, transports it to your community; and finally your local gas company delivers it to you and your neighbors.

This gas industry team will be able to continue to do its job . . . with its tremendous investments and heavy financial risks . . . as long as there is the incentive to find, produce, transport and distribute this premium fuel to the homes and industries of the area we serve, and the nation.

"Actually, natural gas is one of my biggest bargains. It's worth every cent I pay for it...and then some"



Finding and producing natural gas is the key to dependable supplies for you. Work goes on 24-hours-a-day, day in and day out, in this highly competitive, risky business to find additional reserves of gas for you. As a result, the supply is staying years ahead of the demand. And the producer will continue to do his job, so long as he is given the opportunity to earn a profit commensurate with the risks.

Leo Refuses To Predict Pennant Win

By JOE REICHLER

HOUSTON (AP)—Leo Durocher refushed to predict another pennant today but declared the New York Giants might be stronger in 1955 and hinted that Brooklyn and Milwaukee would have to be better if they are to prevent his world champions from repeating.

Relaxing in his plus hotel suite while attending the minor league convention here, the dapper Giant manager conceded his job "might be a bit tougher" if the Dodgers' Roy Campanella and the Braves' Bobby Thomson return to top physical form.

"I don't know whether we can win or not," he said frankly. "I do know we have a good ball team. It may be even better than last year's. But it might be harder to win. It all depends on how much the Dodgers and Braves help themselves from now until the start of the season. You've also got to remember that every club shoots at the champ. That's the way it should be."

Durocher also conceded he could use another starting pitcher but added quickly his team was set and that he had made no attempt to make a deal here.

Calling Johnny Antonelli and Ruben Gomez his "Mr. Left and Mr. Right," who would pitch every four days regardless of the opposition, he said he was counting on Sal Maglie, 37-year-old clutch pitcher, as a one-a-week starter.

He said he was counting heavily on Monte Irvin making a comeback and predicted the big left fielder would climb back into the .300 class again next year.

Trading business picked up a bit as the New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles finally announced completion of their 18-player deal. The Orioles sent first baseman Dick Kryhoski, catcher Darrell Johnson, outfielder Jim Fridley, pitcher Mike Blyzka and farmhand Ted Delguerchio, an outfielder with Wichita, to the Yankees for southpaw Bill Miller, and infielders Kal Segrist and Don Leppert. Kryhoski stays with the Yankees but Johnson, Fridley and Blyzka go to Denver and Delguerchio to Birmingham. Another Baltimore player must be sent to New York by April 1.

In the first half of this gigantic transaction two weeks ago, the Orioles sent pitchers Bob Turley and Don Larsen plus shortstop Billy Hunter to the Yankees for pitchers Jim McDonald and Harry Byrd, outfielder Gene Woodling, shortstop Willie Miranda and catchers Gus Triandos and Hal Smith.

In another major league deal, the Detroit Tigers purchased left-handed Bob Schultz from Pittsburgh. Ray Kennedy, former farm director of the Pirates and Tigers, was named to the job of personnel director of the Kansas City club. The title is equivalent to the rating of general manager.

By JORE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Indiana's two-year reign as kingpins of Western Conference basketball should come to an end this season.

Unless all signs fail, Iowa's oncoming sophomore team of last year should be ready to prevent the Hoosiers from taking their third straight title. Minnesota also has a fightiing chance for the Big Ten championship.

The Hoosiers must be reckoned with but they've lost Bob Leonard, star guard, and Dick Farley and Charlie Krak, forwards. They still have Don Schlundt and as long as the big fellow is in the pivot, Indiana will be tough to down.

Behind the big three come Northwestern, Wisconsin and Michigan State. Illinois remains an uncertain quantity. Ohio State, Michigan and Purdue will have their own private fight to stay out of the cellar.

Missouri is the choice to capture the Big Seven Conference and Wichita is the pick for the Missouri Valley title. Each, however, will meet stiff competition. Colorado, co-champions with Kansas last year in the Big Seven, gets its entire squad back and can boast an all-senior starting five plus a pair of 6-7 centers in Burdette Halderson and George Hannah. Kansas gets only one regular back from last year's starting team. The Jayhawkers, however, have a fine array of sophomore talent that will get better with experience.

Missouri's Tigers were only a .500 club last season but they were the most improved club in the league at the end and they've got all their regulars back including Bob Reiter, their 6-8 high-scoring center. Others back include 6-4 Norman Stewart and 5-11 Lloyd Elmore, guards and 6-2 Med Park and 6-1 Bedford Reichert, forwards. Lionel Smith, 'he best of a good freshman squad, should break in as a regular.

Kansas State has some of the biggest men in the league but they sit on the bench. The starting squad is small. Iowa State also is bothered by lack of height despite its 6-8 sophomore, Jim Sinning. The people of Nebraska are enthused over their new coach, Jerry Bush, but are not much optimistic about anything else. Oklahoma lost heavily through graduation but has a standout player in Lester Lane.

Wichita, with an overall 27-4 record, finished second to Oklahoma A&M last year but appears ready to win it all this year behind the sensational Cleo Littleton. The Wheatstockers lost Paul Scheer, their No. 2 scorer, but everyone else is back. They have commanding height and speed and good shooters in Jim McNerny, Merv Carman, Leo Carney, Verlyn Anderson and, of course, the 6-3½ Littleton. The most trouble may come from St. Louis, led by the great Dick Boushka. Coach Ed Hickey has a veteran unit with four seniors on the first five. Al Serkin, 6-8 soph, may prove a find.

Oklahoma A & M, perennial champ of the group, will miss Bob Mattick, a fine all-around performer. For the first time in years, Coach Hank Iba won't have a big man. Tulsa lost its high scorer, Dick Nunnelley but has a tough, hustling club led by Bob Patterson. Houston has been improving the past few years and Coach Aoden Pasche thinks it will continue to improve despite the loss of 6-9 Gary Shivers and Jackie Mosher.

Vikings Stop KCU 78-63; Stone Leads

KANSAS CITY (AP) —Missouri Valley's Vikings, paced by the 17-point scoring of Jim Stone, defeated Kansas City University 78-63 in a non-conference basketball game last night.

Missouri Valley led 31-27 at the half. Jim Long scored 18 points for Kansas City.

Ft. Wood Defeats Rockhurst, 99-81

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ft. Leonard Wood defeated Rockhurst College 99-81 in a basketball game last night.

Win Wilfong scored 25 points for the service team while Dolor Rehm racked up 32 for Rockhurst.

Six Vacancies In Coaching Staff Exist

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press

The last of the 1954 football gear has not yet been hung up but already five major colleges and at least one minor school are looking for a new head coach.

The unexpected resignation of Ed Danowski at Fordham University yesterday left the fifth major vacancy and there were reports that Harvey Robinson was on his way at Tennessee.

Major college coaches who have been fired or resigned within the last few days include Kip Taylor of Oregon State, Bill Young of Furman and Bernie Wituchi of Tulsa. Red Dawson stepped out at Pittsburgh in midseason because of ill health.

Among the smaller institutions, Norwich in Vermont is in the market for a coach after the resignation of George (Duke) Benz.

Young, who also was athletic director at Furman, was the only one of the five to as much as break even this season. Taylor had a 1-8-0 record at Oregon State, Wituchi 0-11-0 at Tulsa and Benz 3-5-0 at Norwich. Pittsburgh lost three straight under Dawson before Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took charge. Young's Purple Hurricanes broke even in 10 games.

Danowski's resignation caught Fordham officials completely by surprise. Although the Rams had won one and tied one of their nine games this fall, the former Fordham and New York Giants' great had given no indication that he was planning on stepping out.

Although Danowski was not available for comment, his wife said he hoped to remain in the coaching profession.

He took over at Fordham in 1946 and in nine years his teams won 29 games, lost 44 and tied 3. The most successful year was an 8-1 record in 1950.

Meantime, the Knoxville Journal said Robinson and his entire staff at Tennessee will be dismissed when contracts expire Dec. 31. It said the chief reasons were defeats by Vanderbilt and Kentucky, both ancient foes of the Vols.

Fans Hope Non-Title Bout Between Saxton, Fuentes Is Lively

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Newly crowned World welterweight champion Johnny Saxton and challenger Ramon Fuentes meet in a 10-round non-title bout tonight, and every fight fan worthy of the term faithfully hopes the encounter will turn out better than it shapes up, meaning dull.

This is the first appearance for Saxton, the 24-year-old Brooklynite, often described as a specialist in defense, since he out-defended Kid Gavilan for the title in their struggle in Philadelphia Oct. 20.

Fuentes at 29, making his 35th fight, with only three losses chalked against him, seems to be a local 10-9 betting favorite. They say Saxton, loser of only two in 49 matches, is quoted the same degree of choice in eastern circles.

George Ray Is Elected to Head Sedalia Little League In 1955

George Ray was elected president of the Sedalia Little League for 1955 at a meeting Wednesday night of the executive board.

Other officers elected are: vice-presidents, George T. Lockett and James McNeil; secretary, Herbert Berfin; and treasurer, Edward W. Shelby.

The meeting was held at the home of the outgoing president and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Robinson.

Plans for next season are being made, and Ray and the other officers will within the next few days complete application for the league's 1955 charter. The officers expect to have all the organization work completed during the winter months.

All team sponsors are asked to make arrangements for their team managers and coaches and to notify Ray as soon as possible.

AF Academy Sets Fall of '58 As Grid Participation Date

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The fall of 1958 has been set as the target date when the new Air Force Academy out in Colorado will be ready to throw its football team into a full nine-game schedule against leading gridiron powers in every section of the country.

This sounds like short notice, considering that classes in the third service school are not scheduled to begin until next July and that it will have to limit itself to freshman sports its first season. But we are advised by Bob Bowie, a visitor from the Denver Post, that the fly boys are in just that big a hurry to take off.

"They want the people to see their team as soon as possible," he says. "Col. Robert Whitlow, who has been named the school's first athletic director, had at last count received correspondence from 58 colleges and universities seeking games with the academy. He should have no trouble getting a good schedule together when he's ready."

Whether the flying cadets will be ready to lock horns with Army and Navy by '58 and turn the service rivalry into a free-for-all. Bowie isn't prepared to guess. He says it will depend upon the material, and that Whitlow has no intention of tossing his boys in over their heads. But he says the hope is to be ready to play Notre Dame by the early 1960s.

Next year's freshman team already has a tentative schedule calling for games against the freshmen elevens of Denver, Colorado, Colorado Aggies, Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico, Kansas and Oklahoma. The initial class at the air academy, which will be situated at Lowry Air Base at Denver until its permanent quarters are completed near Colorado Springs, will consist of only 300 cadets. Eventually the enrollment will reach 2,496, same as West Point's.

For the time being, at least, it is expected that Col. Whitlow will double as athletic director and football coach, as Col. Earl (Red) Blaik does at Army. Whitlow played tackle on West Point teams in the early '40s and has had considerable coaching experience since that time.

Plans call for construction of a football stadium at the academy in the 50,000-seat class, as well as a fieldhouse of some 5,000 capacity.

Kirksville State Nips Iowa Wesleyan, 86-65

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., (AP) —Kirksville State Teachers opened its basketball season with an 86-65 non-conference victory over Iowa Wesleyan last night.

Guard Jack Beck scored 19 points for Kirksville. Iowa Wesleyan's top scorer was guard Willis Rich with 15.

Smithton Jr. HS Cage Tourney Gets Underway

The Smithton Junior High School Basketball Tournament got underway Wednesday night at the new Smithton High School gymnasium as four games were played.

The Warsaw junior cagers advanced into the semi-finals in the championship bracket by defeating the Sacred Heart team by 24-20. Kluter and M. Hessefort tied for scoring honors with eight points apiece for Warsaw, and Rouchka of Sacred Heart had seven.

In the second game Smithton romped over Hughesville by 38-18, also advancing to the semi-finals in the championship. Kahr of Smithton dominated the scoring with 14 points. Hughesville's Brewer scored four.

The third game saw Bunceton eke a win over Prairie Home 26-24, as Williams of Bunceton racked up 16 points for scoring honors. Sells of Prairie Home was second with ten.

In the final game of the evening Otterville came from behind to edge Lincoln 27-25. Otterville's Watring was high scorer with 13 points, followed by Boring and Christian of Lincoln with six apiece.

In tonight's semi-finals games in the championship bracket Warsaw plays Smithton and Bunceton meets Ottervill in bids for finals berths.

Hughesville Drops Malta Bend Cagers 60-51 Tuesday

The Hughesville High School Wildcats rolled to a 60-51 basketball victory over Malta Bend at Hughesville Tuesday night.

Wildcats ace Dean Ringen took scoring honors with 13 field goals and three free throws for 29 points. C. L. Henke of Malta Bend was second with 26 tallies. Parkhurst scored 17 for Hughesville as Admire of Malta Bend collected ten.

The Hughesville "B" team was not quite as fortunate as the Varsity as they suffered defeat by 28-39 in their first game of the season.

The Wildcats journey to Cole Camp Friday night to play PBCAA Conference volleyball and basketball games.

Teenettes Lose 26-27 To Houstonia Wed.

A revenge-seeking Houstonia volleyball team eked a win over the Sedalia Teenettes by 27-26 Wednesday night in a game at the Horace Mann gymnasium.

It was the second meeting of the two teams this year as the Teenettes defeated Houstonia by one point 28-27 in their first meeting. The Teenettes' record is 3-2 to date.

The Teenettes play an Epworth Methodist Church Sunday School team in their next game at the Washington School gymnasium at 7 o'clock Tuesday night.

May Complete Negotiations For Transfer

HOUSTON (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals were expected today to complete negotiations with the Western League for the transfer of their Columbus American Association franchise to Omaha.

The Cards received permission from the A. A. yesterday to do business with the Western League. The only thing that stands in the way is a matter of some $30,000 or $40,000.

The Western has reluctantly agreed to part with Omaha but has asked the Cardinals for $100,000 damages. The Cardinals feel the price is much too high but have agreed to negotiate. A meeting was scheduled for today.

If Omaha becomes a member of the Association it will become the second city to shift to that league from the Western this week. Denver already has been drafted to take over the Kansas City franchise. A five-man board will determine damages due the Western in the Denver case.

Yesterday's minor league session was highlighted by a fiery speech by Frank Lawrence, independent owner of the Portsmouth, Va., club of the Piedmont League, who is suing baseball for $250,000.

Lawrence, in his speech, said nine other clubs soon would institute suits similar to his, charging majors with violating territorial rights by broadcasting and televising their games into minor league cities.

The minor league draft finally came to an end with only 44 players selected as compared to 84 a year ago for $297,500. This year's crop cost $135,450.

The minors also discussed 23 amendments to the major-minor code, eight amendments to the National Association rules and two resolutions preparatory to today's vote in an executive session.

One of the most important would bar broadcasts or telecasts of games into the territory of another club while that club was at home. Others would liberalize the player draft and provide for higher payments for working agreements.

Upsets Appear On College Cage Matches

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

College basketball slipped in on the sports scene last night with a smattering of upsets and several record-shattering performances.

One conference champion — George Washington—was knocked off. Yale was beaten by little Amherst College. Three Big Ten conference teams—Ohio State, Michigan State and Iowa—won nonleague games as expected. La Salle, the defending NCAA titleholder, also captured its season's opener.

George Washington, last year's Southern Conference kings, bowed to a powerful Wake Forest team, which set a school scoring record in its 107-86 victory. Dickie Hemric bagged 36 points as the Deacons took an early lead and rolled up a 50-39 edge at halftime.

Amherst, paced by Doub Hawkins, came with a rush in the final minutes to surprise Yale 61-56.

Ohio State snapped five Pitt fieldhouse records in downing the Panthers 98-87. Robin Freeman poured in 42 points to personally account for two of the records—total points and field goals.

Michigan State, using a new fast-break, run-and-shoot style of play taught by its new coach Ford Anderson, crushed Marquette 91-72, also setting a one-game team scoring record.

Iowa handled its opener with ease by routing Washington of St. Louis 80-61 for the Hawkeyes' 63rd straight nonconference victory at home.

All America center Tom G[illegible] was held to 15 points. [illegible]sale's Explorers easily vanquished Millersville [illegible]ers 88,72.

Richmond, tabbed as a Southern Conference power, defeated Furman 101-87 in a league game. Rice edged Lamar Tech 73-71. Texas nipped Hardin-Simmons, 59-57. Southern Methodist routed Austin College 84-60.

In other games, Seton Hall downed Roanoke 93-62; North Carolina State whipped William and Mary 111-97; Presbyterian edged Clemson 81-75; Dayton beat Gustavus Adolphus 82-63; Tennessee walloped David Lipscomb 95-38; Connecticut set a school scoring record by crushing Rhode Island 116-77; Oregon State defeated Hawaii, 69-47; and Alabama humbled Jacksonville State 96-63.

Owens Gives US Fine Chance In Olympics

CHICAGO (AP)—Jesse Owens, 1936 Olympic star who was voted the greatest track athlete of the half-century in the AP poll, gives the United States a fine chance against Russia in the 1956 Olympics.

Owens suggested in an interview yesterday that it was time to quit spreading "gloom" about the chances of this nation's athletes against the Russians in next year's games at Melbourne, Australia.

Owens now serves as secretary of the Illinois Athletic Commission, operates an insurance agency and is affiliated with a drive-in cleaning plant in Chicago. In 1936 at Berlin he won the 100 and 200 meter sprints and the broad jump and ran on the winning 400 meter relay team.

His reference to spreading "gloom" followed a speech in Chicago Tuesday by Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee. Brundage said Russia's success in international athletic competition has been phenomenal and is destined to progress.

"The Russians are making fabulous times and records, according to reports," said Owens. "But the Olympics are a different story. The Russians put their pants on one leg at a time, like we do, and they can get only so many men in each Olympic event.

"When that gun goes off, you're not trying to make the stop-watch do any tricks. You're just trying to beat those other guys and the pressure is terrific. That's when we do our best in this country—when the pressure is terrific."

Wade Gets a Chance At Quarterback Spot With Los Angeles Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For the first time since 1952 when Bob Waterfield was still playing, Norman van Brocklin will not start at quarterback for the Los Angeles Rams when they face Baltimore here Saturday.

Coach Hamp Pool said that the Rams' bonus star, Billy Wade of Vanderbilt, will direct the team.

"This is no reflection on Van Brocklin," said Pool. "Since the Rams are out of the championship running I think Wade should get as much work as possible. There is no substitute for combat experience."

The 23-year-old Knoxville back has not played very much this season, but he has impressed everyone with his ball handling and ability to run on keeper plays.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE — RUNNING OUT

BY CHARLES DICKENS
A CHRISTMAS CAROL

No sooner had the Ghost of Christmas Past taken Scrooge by the hand than they were in a small village. "Good Heaven!" said Scrooge. "I was bred in this place! I was a boy here!"
The Ghost showed Scrooge the old boarding school where he spent his boyhood Christmases, alone.
Scrooge saw himself—a lonely, solitary little boy. "Poor boy!" he wept. "There was a boy singing a Christmas Carol at my door last night. I should like to have given him something."
The Ghost then showed Scrooge himself when he was an apprentice to kindly old Mr. Fezziwig. How old Fez

Tug-of-War Means a Break For Consumer

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices of finished goods and raw materials are caught in a tug-of-war today—with consumers getting a break here and there.

Price weakness in some lines, going counter to the usual upward pull of advancing business activity, is being watched closely by businessmen planning next year's schedules.

Price cutting by some of the big stores to meet the competition of the discount houses is giving many a Christmas shopper a break. But it's a headache to manufacturers who are trying to maintain a uniform price on their branded products.

Gasoline price wars, a recurring item in some states, is on the official carpet in New Jersey, where 12 major oil companies are accused of violating state laws by offering rebates and discounts. Retail prices of regular gasoline in that stage range from 20 to 26 cents a gallon.

Prices on the new automobile models are pretty well scrambled this time. At the manufacturing level, interest centers on recent price weakness in some raw materials—at a time when rising industrial production schedules would seem to pull prices in the opposite direction.

The price of steel scrap, for example, has been taking the low road of late, although steel mills are increasing output and scrap prices usually rise at such a time. Some mills explain they laid in good supplies of scrap last fall. Others report they have been putting more pig iron and less scrap in their mix.

Copper scrap prices have been weak of late too, although the strike-caused shortage in refined copper still continues. But rising costs of labor and of some metals, like zinc, which it uses along with copper, are given by Chase Brass & Copper as the reasons for raising prices on some of its products.

Prices of titanium metal sponge, whose end product is used in the high-speed aircraft manufacturing industry, are being cut by Du Pont. Increased production gets the credit.

Synthetic rubber producers will also be getting the benefit of a price cut in monomer styrene by Dow Chemical and Koppers.

The tug-of-war team pulling at the other end of the price rope includes the rise in industrial production and operation of "fair trade" laws and other business practices. But even more important perhaps are government price supports and stockpiling programs which keep a free market from operating.

The following are the percentages of certain U.S. crops which are sold abroad, according to a Twentieth Century Fund study: wheat 48, dried milk 45, rice 37, dried peas 35, cotton 34, soybeans 28, lard 24, tobacco and hops 23, plums and prunes 21.

THE STREETS WERE JAMMED—This is a bird's-eye view of the corner of Third and Ohio last Saturday morning as the Christmas parade moved through town. The streets were lined with crowds all the way out to 16th and Grand, where the parade assembled. Shown here is the massive float from the Sedalia Air Force Base, displaying the rocket ship in which Santa's helper arrived here to assist Mr. Claus. The helper and the Air Force crew who handled the rocket ship for him are grouped in front of the rocket ship. When the parade ended, Sedalia's stores were thronged with customers. (SAFB Photo)

Acquits Woman Of Taking Part In Theft Try

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Mrs. Kathleen M. Nagler, one of two defendants in a love-profiteering case, has been acquitted of charges she participated in the attempted theft of a $300,000 fortune from a Florida socialite.

The 38-year-old brunette was freed late yesterday by U.S. Judge Sterling Hutcheson, who upheld a defense claim the government had failed to prove its case against Mrs. Nagler.

In July, the government obtained a conviction of Percy W. Herman, 50-year-old Lothario who made a habit of courting wealthy women.

Herman, a native of San Francisco, was sentenced to eight years in prison for illegally transporting across a state line money and jewels belonging to Mrs. Dyoll P. Havens of Palm Beach, Fla. He was fined $10,000.

Herman and the 68-year-old Mrs. Havens had married in March after a whirlwind courtship following their meeting at an auction gallery. He deserted her at a tourist court near Fredericksburg, Va., the day after the wedding.

The government produced witnesses at Mrs. Nagler's trial who testified she had lived with Herman while he was wooing Mrs. Havens. Other witnesses testified he rejoined her in New York shortly after the desertion.

Defense attorneys conceded the pair had lived together but argued this did not mean Mrs. Nagler joined in any plot to gain control of Mrs. Havens' fortune. Mrs. Havens had her marriage to Herman annulled in June.

West Germans Mine Uranium in Bavaria

WEISSENSTADT, Germany (AP)—The West Germans are mining uranium ore in the wooded hills of Bavaria's Fichtel Mountains.

Seventy tons of the valuable ore, used in atomic research, were loaded on railroad cars here for delivery to the Bayer chemical plant at Leverkusen in the Rhineland.

At the London and Paris conferences West Germany agreed to conduct atomic research only for peaceful purposes.

Santa Visits Boy Who May Not Live To See Christmas

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Santa Claus came yesterday to Limmie Chrestman. He came earl because doctors are afraid Limmie won't live until Christmas.

The 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Chrestman of Batesville, Miss., has sarcoma of the prostate gland, a rare type of cancer.

Watching the boy failing fast, doctors and nurses in the pediatrics department of St. Joseph Hospital determined that Limmie should know the happiness of one more Christmas.

With wreaths and tinsel and a Christmas tree they transformed his room into a yuletide fairyland. Then they showered him with gifts and goodies.

Santa, himself, opened the gifts for Limmie and placed them on the bed beside him.

Dressed in his new cowboy suit, Limmie took it all in through shining eyes. Then he wrapped his thin, wasted arms around Santa's neck and thanked him with a hug.

Forecasts Big Push to Farms In the USSR

MOSCOW (AP)—Another massive effort for 1955, to move more people to Soviet farms to raise enough food for the growing population, is forecast in the Moscow press.

This is to be the second big push. And this time, it is indicated, a real effort will be made to weed out surplus employes in overstuffed government ministries, not only in Moscow but in all the republic (provincial) capitals. They will be sent out to do their bit on the virgin lands, state farms and machine tractor stations.

The Ministry of Health is the first big government agency to announce that it is going to streamline.

The problem in the Soviet Union is: How you gonna get 'em down on the farm in Siberia after they've lolled behind a desk in Moscow?

That is the job of Nikita S. Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party and the man in charge of boosting agricultural production.

Khrushchev kicked off the first of his multiple farm drives in September 1953. Volunteers were recruited and the country was able to report a slight increase in grain production but still fell short of the goals in livestock raising.

Now the leaders want to open more acreage, with more people. The Soviets need more grain not only for their own people but for trading purposes.

The Ministry of Health announced that those it dismissed would be guaranteed new jobs. The announcement said the best opportunities seem to be on the virgin lands of Siberia and Central Asia. It repeated all the inducements given to prospective farmers—cash bonuses, tax exemptions, free railway tickets, loans for building cottages, etc.

The Communist party organ Pravda says the whole government needs streamlining and that there are still too many paper pushers in the Soviet Union.

Heron Is Rescued From Oil Slush Pit

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A great blue heron migrating south mistook an oil field slush pit at nearby Edmond for a water hole and zoomed down into the goo. Zookeeper Julian Frazier rescued it and gave it six baths. The bird has a new home in the zoo.

In a recent scientific experiment, a camel was kept without water on dry feed for 17 days and then drank almost 20 gallons of water.

Around the Farm Home

with OPAL O'BRIANT, Pettis County Home Agent

The Annual Farm Outlook Meeting for this district was held in Clintin Tuesday, Nov. 30. The meeting was conducted by Cliff Meeker, Coy McNabb and Miss Alice Mae Alexander from the State Extension office.

Miss Alexander discussed the farm family living outlook for 1955.

She told us the average overall costs of goods and services families buy is expected to remain about the same as that of the past year. Consumer incomes available for spending and domestic demand for food and other farm products should continue as good in 1955 as they were in 1954.

Retail food prices next year are likely to average close to the 1954 prices. Plentiful and varied supplies are expected to be available and food costs stable. However, seasonal price fluctuations can be expected.

Home production and conservation programs enable families to make a significant contribution to the nutritional quality of their diets, as well as extending available cash for other items of family expenditure. If it is necessary to lessen the total effort in home production, due to individual family needs, emphasis should be given to those foods that make the greatest nutritional contribution to the diet.

There has been a slow decrease in retail prices of clothing since 1951. However, inventories of clothing and materials used in clothing, particularly at the manufacturing level, are low enough that stocks on hand would not indicate continuing lower prices. Prices of some unfinished materials have recently increased. If there is any upturn in retail clothing prices, it is not expected before summer. Clothing, accessories, and shoes accounted for 11 per cent of the cash spent by Missouri farm families (1953) for family living items.

Possibilities for lower prices in household furnishings and labor saving equipment are less now than they were a year ago. Consumer spending for these items hold up very well during 1954 and durable goods inventories have been reduced. Prices of some kinds of equipment have decreased slightly. These price changes, however, are difficult to interpret because the equipment has become more elaborate over the years.

Household equipment continue to be an important item of expenditure for Missouri families, since 92 per cent of the farm homes now have electricity. 10 per cent of expenditures for family living (1953) was used for equipment and furnishings.

Construction and repair of homes and buildings has held at a high level and seems likely to continue. Prices of building materials are expected to change very little during the coming year.

The general increase in service costs during the past few years is expected to continue. Medical care, household service, and additional services as part of the food, clothing and durable goods purchases, enters the household economy to an increasing degree. Careful selection and operation of household equipment should be stressed.

Improved standards of living probably will have more effect than the course of consumer prices in keeping farm family living costs up during 1955.

From the family living angle, probably changes in living costs are not enough to raise serious questions. Over the entire range of consumer goods, plentiful and varied supplies are evident. However, it is timely to emphasize long-range family plans and values, rather than to calculate purchases in terms of short run change in prices of paticular goods.

A good plan for managing family funds is necessarily a tailor-made plan to suit the family. Thus the emphasis should be on planning as a means of getting the most from all family resources.

A new bulletin has been received in the extension office. The titl is "Green Vegetables For good eating." A few comments on food in this bulletin are:

So many kinds of bright-green vegetables can be bought at market or grown in home gardens.

So many ways to serve them, there's no need ever to tire of something green on the menu.

Green vegetables are important in meals because of the nutrients they contribute—particularly vitamin A value and vitamin C.

Both the intensity of the vegetable's green color and the part of the plant from which it comes are clues to its food value. In general, the greener the vegetable, the richer it is in vitamins and minerals. And dark-green leaves may carry several times as much of some nutrients as green stalks (asparagus), green fleshy pods (snap beans), or green immature seeds (shelled peas or lima beans).

Rib Roast and Yorkshire Pudding Tasty Holiday Dish

STANDING RIB ROAST OF BEEF is a traditional Christmas treat for many families.

By Gaynor Maddox
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Standing ribs of roast beef with Yorkshire pudding is traditional for Christmas in many families. We like it because once the beef is in the oven it needs no basting or watching until done.

Get only the finest of standing ribs of beef for this great day. The prized ribs are the first five ribs cut from next to the loin or steak section. The sixth and seventh rib roasts are cut from the section near the shoulder "pot roasts" and often are less tender and usually lower priced. Many stores trim the roasts closely and remove the short ribs. The amount of trimming and whether or not these short ribs are removed should be taken into consideration in judging the price per pound of the meat.

Cooking is a simple matter. Because the meat has a built-in rack, it requires only to be placed fat side up in an open pan with a roast meat thermometer placed in the center of the meat. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) until the meat thermometer indicates the degree of doneness desired, 140 degrees F. rare, 160 degrees F. for medium, or 170 degrees F. well done. After the roast reaches the desired temperature, remove to a platter and keep warm. If allowed to set approximately 30 minutes, the meat will carve more easily.

With roast of beef, the menu can be simple. Start with cups of hot consomme or jellied madrilene, both available in cans. With the beef and Yorkshire pudding, serve cooked whole tiny onions and buttered green beans, or else buttered Brussels sprouts or mashed rutabagas. Creamed peas and Mushrooms are good too. Serve whole potatoes browned and crisply coated, cooked around the roast, or riced potatoes. In place of salad, serve a large tray of crisp relishes.

Of course, plum pudding served flaming is also traditional. But we like a lighter dessert such as a tray of fruit, cheese and fruitcake.

PARTY DINNER: Standing rib roast of beef, pan gravy, Yorkshire pudding, roasted potatoes, small white onions, Brussels sprouts, rolls, butter or margarine, crisp relishes, fruit tray, cheese and crackers, coffee, tea, milk.

Industry, Labor Heads Talk With Mobilizers On Executive Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty-three industry and labor officials conferred with mobilization officials here yesterday preliminary to the forming of a voluntary "executive reserve" of men who could be called to government service in wartime.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming told the group, mostly corporation executives with wartime experience here, that each "reservist" will be attached to the Office of Defense Mobilization as an unpaid consultant.

In event of full mobilization, each will be prepared to step into an executive post in a specified phase of emergency activity, such as price control, wage stabilization, rationing or allocations.

Thinks Rocket-Driven Airliners Possible In Next 10-15 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—A former German army rocket expert says rocket-propelled airliners can be built in the next 10 or 15 years with speeds up to 13,000 miles an hour. Dr. Walter R. Nesselrode Wreath Is a Fine Salute to Santa Clause

NESSELRODE WREATH MOLD will add a festive touch to your Christmas dinner.

By Gaynor Maddox
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's a festive Christmas special—Nesselrode Wreath — delicate and beautiful with green-tinted cream, bright cherries and citron or pineapple leaves.

It comes from Mrs. Raymond Huttenlocher of Des Moines, Ia. She says this eggnog chiffon appears as a dessert in many guises throughout the year in her home. It can be spooned into sherbet glasses and chilled or turned into a baker pastry shell and fruit trimmed. For Christmas, she adds cherries and nuts to the basic mixture and turns the now "nesselrode" chiffon into a ring mold, with Christmas wreath decoration.

Nesselrode Wreath
(Yield: 10 servings)

Two envelopes unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup sugar, 1 quart bottled nonalcoholic eggnog, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, optional, 4 teaspoons rum flavoring, optional, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, ⅓ cup chopped drained maraschino cherries, ⅓ cup chopped nuts.

Combine gelatin and sugar in top of double boiler. Stir in 1 cup of the cold eggnog. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin and sugar are dissolved. Remove from heat; add remaining eggnog. If additional flavoring is desired, add nutmeg and flavoring.

Chill until slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Whip gelatin mixture until light and fluffy; fold in whipped cream. Fold in maraschino cherries and nuts. Turn into a 5-cup ring mold; chill until firm. To garnish, whip additional ½ cup heavy cream. Tint green. Garnish top with maraschino cherries and green-colored citron or pineapple to represent "wreath."

Eggnog Holly Pie
(Yield: 1 ten-inch pie)

One envelope unflavored gelatin, ½ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1¾ cups milk, 3 eggs, separated, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 tablespoon rum flavoring, 1 ten-inch baked pie shell.

Combine gelatin, ¼ cup of the sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Stir in milk. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin and sugar are disolved. Beat egg yolks slightly; gradually stir in small amount of the hot mixture. Return to double boiler and cook until mixture is slightly thickened. Remove from heat; add nutmeg and flavoring. Chill mixture until slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; gradually beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar. Fold in gelatin mixture. Turn into pie shell; chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream, pieces of maraschino cherries and citron to resemble holly wreath.

TOMMOROW'S DINNER Creamed tuna and sliced stuffed olives, steamed rice, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, butter or margarine, cole slaw, canned pears, brownies, coffee, tea, milk.

Steamed Pudding Makes A Perfect Christmas Dessert

STEAMED PUDDING ROYALE is a labor-saving Christmas dessert your family will enjoy.

By Gaynor Maddox
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Let's keep Christmas dinner free of drudgery. Too many other wonderful things to do—opening presents, exchanging greetings, admiring the tree. This handsome steamed pudding, using a prepared pudding to begin with, is a delicious answer. We think you'll agree.

Steamed Pudding Royale
(Makes 6-8 servings)

One cup sifted enriched flour, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup shortening, 1 package vanilla pudding, 1 egg, unbeaten, ¼ cup finely chopped glazed gruit, ⅔ cup milk.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening thoroughly. Gradually add pudding and cream again. Add egg and beat well. Stir in fruit. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Beat until smooth after each addition. Pour into a well-greased 1-quart mold. Cover securely.

Place the mold on a rack in steamer containing about 1 inch of water. A deep, covered kettle with a rack in bottom may be used in place of a steamer. Cover. Use high heat until water boils, then reduce to low so that steam is steady but light. Replenish water when necessary. Steam pudding for 1½ hours. Remove mold from steamer; let stand a few minutes before unmolding pudding. Serve hot with velvety lemon sauce.

Velvety Lemon Sauce

One egg, ¾ cup extra-fine sugar, 1½ tablespoons lemon juice, ½ cup heavy cream.

Beat egg until light. Gradually add sugar, beating until well blended. Beat in lemon juice. Whip cream until stiff. Fold cream into lemon-sugar mixture. Chill in refrigerator. Serve with steamed pudding royale.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Pan-broiled top sirloin steak, stuffed baked potatoes, buttered carrots with parsley, soft rolls, butter or margarine, lettuce salad, apple pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

Disney Plans To Describe Human Animal

NEW YORK (AP)—Walt Disney is famous for his animal characters but there's one he hasn't done yet and plans to get around to on TV next season—The Human Animal.

"There's nothing funnier than the human animal," says the creator of Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck and other cartoon creatures that have become a part of American folklore.

Here on a trip from Hollywood to receive an award for his new ABC television show. Disney explained that while his new Human Animal character will be funny, the purpose is to teach children and grownups more of the mechanics of their own bodies.

Disney isn't idle on the atomic age either. He is working on that story for his TV series. Because "I have to learn about it myself first," he brought along a bundle of texts on the subject.

Despite all that has been written and said on atomic energy, Disney feels it's a subject about which most people, including himself, still don't have a basic understanding. So he will do one or two shows on atomic energy during the season starting next fall to explain it as simply as possible to both adults and youngsters.

"And too many people discount the kids," he said. "They're always reaching and often have a surprising knowledge on various subjects, while adults always are trying to catch up."

Despite the popularity of his TV shows among children, Disney insists he was not aiming at any specific age group but rather at "kids of all ages" or "things that I believe have a basic appeal."

There's one point on which he and the kids see eye to eye: "If you put a lot of kissin' stuff in a show, the kids don't like it. I don't like a lot of this kissin' stuff in a show myself."

Make-Ahead Treats for Christmas

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

EARLY-BIRD COOKS who want to get some of their Christmas baking done ahead will be interested in these recipes for a shortbread-type cookie and fruit-cake bonbons. Store the cookies and bonbons, after baking, in tightly covered containers and they will keep well. The bonbons can be frosted just before you want to use them. Both the cookies and the fruitcake, packed in attractive boxes, will make fine gifts.

We are partial to this cookie recipe because we think we had a good idea when we added coconut to a shortbread-type dough. Anyone who favors cookies that are not on the sweet side should enjoy these.

The cookies look most attractive cut into Christmas-tree shapes, but of course you may use any shape of cookie cutter you wish. Just watch the baking time, if you use a cutter that is smaller than the Christmas tree shape we have specified. The old-fashioned shortbread my mother used to bake when I was a litll girl in Canada, had nary a touch of brown; but this vrsion of shortbread tastes best when it is lightly browned on the bottom and around the top edges.

Coconut Shortbread

Ingredients: 1 cup butter or margarine, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, 3 cups sifted flour, dash of salt, one 4-ounce can (1½ cups) moist shredded coconut (ground through fine blade of food chopper).

Method: Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg with spoon. Add flour, salt and coconut; mix well with spoon; mixture will be stiff. Roll ¼-inch thick on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth. Cut into desired shapes; prick design over tops with fork. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet, about ½-inch apart, in moderate (375 degrees) oven 10 to 12 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. If Christmas-tree cookie cutter about 3 inches long and 2 inches wide at bottom is used, there will be about 4 dozen cookies.

Use a fruitcake mix for bonbons.

BONBONS made from fruitcake mix look and taste good.

We have used this mix ever since it appeared on the market two or three years ago, and have always found it excellent. It includes a small vacuum-packed can of diced fruits and peel—pineapple, dates, cherries, citron, orange and lemon peel, raisins and currants—and a bag of dry mix. To make the bonbons, you add egg and water to the mix, as specified in the package directions, and fill tiny foil or paper cups a generous two-thirds full. Bake the bonbons in a slow (300 degrees) oven 20 minutes. These directions will give you 125 to 150 tiny fruit cakes.

Cover the top of the bonbons with butter frosting just before you serve them or use them for gifts. A friend of ours tells us that one kind cook baked 800 of the bonbons and brought them to a hospital where she does volunteer work. The patients were enthusiastic about both the bonbons and the cook!

Bonbon Butter Frosting

Ingredients: ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 pound confectioner's sugar, dash of salt, 4 to 5 tablespoons milk or water, 1½ teaspoons vanilla.

Method: Cream butter; stir in sugar gradually, then salt, until blended. Stir in milk a little at a time, adding just enough to give good consistency for use in cake decorator. Add vanilla. Put frosting on fruitcake bonbons with rosette or rosebud tip of decorator.

Russian Star's Poor Discipline Brings Dismissal

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow's Stanislavsky Theater has been rocked by a scandal. A leading male star of the company was fired for drunkenness and lack of theatrical discipline.

"There is no room among Soviet artists for drunkards, rowdies, violators of trade discipline, or Bohemian geniuses," declared Soviet Culture, reporting the downfall of youthful star Eugene Vesnik. The newspaper tells how a theater in Saratov had scheduled its first performance of Emil Zola's drama "The Inheritors."

Everything was ready. The property man had set the stage; the electrician was at his post; the assistant stage manager was giving the last call. But where was the star?

Vesnik stood in the wings, tearing his collar and yelling, while tears poured down his cheeks:

"I don't want to play! I will not play!"

Finally the cast got him on stage and seated in a big armchair where he was to be discovered as the curtain rose.

Vesnik seemed to be playing two roles—the one Zola wrote, and a vain attempt to appear sober.

Moreover, critics noted, Vesnik lost patience with Zola's text and "added rough gags to the script."

State Department Knew About Prisoners In China For 1 Year

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles had known about the 13 U.S. fliers held by China ever since the Korean truce. They had been mentioned frequently in Peiping radio broadcasts, so anyone listening in also knew about them. . . . Nothing was done to secure their liberation. . . . Prediction: Look for Moscow to intervene with Red China to free the 13 Americans as part of the current coexistence overtures. . . . Ike is not going to be able to squeeze Senator Knowland out of the Senate GOP leadership no matter how often Knowland punctures and pillories the Eisenhower foreign policy. Ike has been pretty peeved at Knowland's speeches, but when his errand boy, Vice President Nixon, talked to GOP Senate solons they wouldn't stand for bouncing Knowland. . . . Incidentally, they didn't know where "McNixon" was speaking for himself or the President, because Dick would like nothing better than to get his fellow Californian, Senator Knowland demoted. . . . Sen. Herman Welker of Idaho mistook the new senator from Nebraska, Roman Hruska, for a Senate aide and started ordering him around. Hruska promptly told Welker to get his own glass of water . . . Friends of Colorado's Gene Millikin, one of the most respected members of the Senate, would like to work a deal whereby he would resign to let Governor Dan Thornton take his place prior to Jan. 1. Thornton would step down from the goversorship to be succeeded by Lieut. Gov. Allott, who becomes senator in January. Allott would then appoint Thornton to the Senate. . . . If this triple play is too long delayed, big Ed Johnson, Democrat, will step into the governor's mansion and the deal won't work.

Dixon-Yates Dickers

The Dixon-Yates combine has been dickering with the famed Steve Hannegan public relations firm to improve its relations. They need it. (Only trouble is that one of Ike's closest golfing partners, William E. Robinson, is head of the Hannegan firm.) . . . When Congressman Charley Howell, Democrat, who ran for the Senate in New Jersey, got a letter from the Democratic national committee asking for $100 to pay for the recount of senate votes in Ohio, he wrote a caustic note that if the Democrats really wanted to pick up another Senate seat they could spend their money recounting ballots in New Jersey. There, he pointed out, Clifford Case, Republican, has a margin of some 3,000 votes, while in Ohio, George Bender, Republican, has a 6,000 margin over Senator Burke, Democrat. . . . Democrat say they are so tired of having Republicans count them out in Hamilton County, O. (Cincinnati), that it's worth $75,000 (cost of the recount) to teach the Republicans a lesson. . . . Astute Venezuelan Security Chief Pedro Estrada was in Washington to confer with J. Edgar Hoover. He reports that Venezuela, whose oil areas could be a tinder box in case of war, is safe from saboteurs. . . . The Food and Drug Administration has given a clean bill of health to use boric acid in baby powders. After a careful examination, FDA found boric acid beneficial.

What Is Coexistence?

By Bruce Biossat

The term "coexistence" is being tossed around pretty freely right now. That might be all right if there was agreement on what it means, but there doesn't seem to be.

As used by men and nations in many different places, coexistence has meanings that grade from white through shades of gray to black.

To all, it appears to mean an absence of shooting war. The differences arise over what men imagine will happen or is happening while this condition of nonviolence persists.

To the Soviet leaders in the Kremlin, coexistence clearly does not mean a stale of happy comradeship with the free nations. It spells opportunity for conquest by nonmilitary devices, for spreading its power through use of all the economic and political wiles it can apply. It is war without guns.

In the free world, some men see coexistence as amounting to actual surrender to Communist domination, or at the very least as weak-kneed appeasement. The logic of this view is that sooner or later Communists and free men must clash in war, since to do nothing is to lose.

And at the other end of the scale, there are those who look upon coexistence as practically synonymous with a glorious peace founded on real understanding between East and West. These men seem willing to take Russian declarations and peaceful purpose at full value.

The people who fall in the gray zones between the extremes are neither as pessimistic as the one nor as hopeful as the other.

They believe that, short of war, there is no way Communists can be brushed off this planet. In consequence, they believe that some way of living with them must be found. When they say that they do not mean living in friendship with them, or giving in to them. They mean simply existing side by side.

They have no illusions about Kremlin purposes. They know Russia is an armed camp, and that when it is not shooting it is practicing warfare on every other imaginable front.

Thus they believe we free people must be equipped at all times to defend ourselves, and must dvelop political and economic programs that will keep the vulnerable and still free sectors of the globe out of Communist hands.

By this definition of coexistence, free men are not to be sitting ducks, waiting to be surrounded by hostile animals moving ever closer. They are men alert to their peril, strong enough to meet it, aggressive enough politically and economically to help lessen the danger in the world's soft spots.

Somewhere in this middle realm lies the policy Secretary of State Dulles and his Western diplomatic collaborators are trying to lay down. They are searching for a path that can permit free men to live without guns beneath their pillows, in nightly fear of the Communist trespasses. They think it can be had without war.

"We might even find ourselves, in a few years, moving along a broad causeway of peace and plenty, instead of roaming around on the rim of hell."

Latin Girl Is Disillusioned By Duties of U. S. Housewife

By Ruth Millett

Well, what do you know? A gal from another country has come to America, looked over us American women and is ready to go back home without telling us what an easy life we have or that we don't fully appreciate our so-wonderful American men.

This visitor came over from Italy all set to marry an American who had been courting her via mail for 18 months.

But she quickly changed her mind about wanting to become an American housewife once she found out we aren't the spoiled darlings we have the reputation for being. In her own words, "It was rather shocking to me to find out the average American housewife has to keep up her own house—even does the cooking."

Every time some babe from across the ocean pays America a brief visit and sound off about how spoiled American women are, how extravagant, and how little know about keeping a man, our men get smug and say, "Boy, is she ever right!"

File This for Future Use

So here is a suggestion: Just file this little item about Vanna Scussel, 26, of Milan, Italy, who came to America to become an American wife and changed her mind when she discovered that the average American wife doesn't have "as rosy a time" as she had "been led to believe."

Then next time your husband starts reading you what some visiting foreigner has to say about spoiled American women who don't appreciate a good thing when they have it—drag out this clipping and read it right back at him.

You might even point out that Miss Scussel got disillusioned without even waiting around long enough to find out that on top of doing their own housework and cooking a big percentage of Ameican wives also help bring home the spaghetti and meat balls.

Radioactive Substances Now Used In Treating Leukemia

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

As most people know leukemia is a disease of the blood and blood-forming organs. It has sometimes been likened to cancer since it involves the overproduction of abnormal cells and like cancer its cause is unknown; but most physicians do not really like to call it cancer of the blood. It may turn out to be closely related to cancer but at present, at least, it is better to call it leukemia which means literally white blood.

There are several kinds of leukemia. What matters for the patient is whether the disease is acute and rapidly progressive or chronic and slowly progressive.

In both cases, the white cells in the blood are abnormal and usually increased in numbers. The numbers of red cells are generally decreased producing an enemia. Frequently, too, the spleen which lies in the upper left portion of the abdomen is enlarged and changes are found in the bone marrow.

In the rapidly progressive types of leukemia there is nothing much that can be done to slow down the course of the disease. In many cases, however, the disease passes into the chronic stage without any treatment at all, or perhaps aided by the treatment attempted.

In the chronic leukemias, there are several treatments available which may bring about temporary improvement. None of them, however, can be counted on for permanent cure. The by-products of atomic energy (radioactive phosphorus in particular) have been used in some forms of leukemia.

Also ACTH and cortisone—other new developments—have been tried and these substances often exert a temporary favorable effect.

Mrs. N.E. recently wrote me of a happy experience with leukemia. Her little son was diagnosed at about a year old as having that disease and was seriously ill with it. Now at 5½ his blood count is normal and he goes to kindergarten happily. Someday, perhaps, stories like this will become the rule rather than the exception.

Slowing down of the leukemia does occur in some patients and important information on the behavior of the disease has been gained. Probably the use of radioactive substances at present is the most promising though not the only line of attack. Sooner or later this disease, too, will be conquered.

Dewey's Future

Governor Dewey of New York has at least temporarily put the seal on his public career by announcing his affiliation with a prominent New York City law firm.

Dewey says he is tired of the pressures of public office and will genuinely welcome private life. There is no reason to doubt his sincerity on this score.

Nevertheless, most Americans who have watched Dewey in the political arena these past 16 years or so will probably wonder if political ambition really has died within him. He is still young as public figures go—52. He still has all his political resourcefulness.

True, he also has severe handicaps. Many in he Republican party blame him alone for the GOP defeat in 1948. And his role in the Eisenhower triumph of 1952 at Chicago is resented by those who supported the late Senator Taft.

Bu time could eliminate much of that resentment if Dewey now comports himself carefully in his quasi-private status. For he will be making many public appearances and will continue inevitably to play a role in his party's activities.

It will be interesting to watch.

Sad News

German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer carried out the scheduled events on the last day of his Washington visit with great difficulty. The death in Germany of Dr. Hermann Ehlers, president of Germany's lower house of parliament and most prominently mentioned as Dr. Adenauer's successor, was a real blow to the venerable but still vigorous chancellor. Dr. Adenauer is 79. Dr. Ehlers was 50.

"Why couldn't it have been I?" the chancellor asked his Washington friends, in a perfect tribute.

'Yes, I Did Pick Up Some Things In America---'

The World Today—
Mac Will Still Be In the News

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Since Sen. McCarthy says he isn't going to change his ways, he probably will be in the news plenty before his current term ends in 1958.

He will have to stay in the news if he hopes to keep what political influence he has, perhaps reach for more, and remain a rallying point for at least part of the population.

He has created an image of himself as a fierce fighter against communism—he's the symbol of that fight, he says of himself—and it kept him on front pages for four years. If he now becomes meek, mild and inactive and landed on the inside pages that image might fade.

The censure charges against him, if he intended to conduct himself differently in the future, he said: "I intend to continue this fight to expose Communists in roughly the same way." He was so far from being abashed, at least publicly, by what was happening to him that he said it was the Senate which had "disgraced" itself.

McCarthy got into the greatest trouble of his career during an administration run by his own Republican party and in a year when Republicans controlled Congress. For the next two years, as a result of the November elections, the Democrats will run congress. And they have no reason to love him. He called them the party of treason. They may show less patience with him than have the Republicans.

The Democrats showed what they thought of McCarthy last night by voting solidly to condemn his attitude toward a Senate subcommittee two years ago. More charges were to be voted on today. Only 20 Republicans voted for him on that count. The vote against: 23 Republicans, and all 43 Democrats present and independent Sen. Morse of Oregon—a total of 67 and far more than the simple majority needed.

To show his hurry to pick up where he left off, McCarthy announced he will hold hearings Tuesday to look for Communists in defense plants. But he is about to lose his position of power as chairman of the Senate Government Operations Committee and its Investigations subcommittee. The picture changes in January when the Democrats take over.

As chairman, helped by a large staff paid by the government, he could begin investigations all over the government and call officials to answer his questions. But in January he loses the chairmanship to a Democrat and becomes just another committee member.

This won't necessarily stop him. For two years—1950-52—he had no chairmanship, but he climbed to fame with his charges about Communists in government. He could do the same again. That he has plans for tearing into the Eisenhower administration next year may have been indicated by what he said yesterday.

He said the censure vote will "make the investigation of Communists in the government much more difficult." He didn't have to use the word "government" if he didn't mean just that.

Democrat Pick-Ups

Odds and Ends By News Staff

THE YOUNG GIRL has a job in town and goes home weekendws town and goes home weekends weekend before Thanksgiving, she was distressed no end at seeing her pet goose penned up, and when she found he had been selected for Thanksgiving dinner she just couldn't stand it.

"I just can't eat a bite of that goose—our pet goose," she told her mother. "Why don't you kill some of those old ducks? I can't stand to have that goose for Thanksgiving dinner."

And so, when she went home for the big day there was the goose with a very sad look in its eyes watching her mother dressing a duck.

"He was just thinking," said the girl, "that he would be next. I could just tell he was."

And he might have been, or maybe he was thinking what a narrow escape he had and was just being thankful.—H.L.

SINCE THE BABY came to town, daddy has kept a little alarm clock by his bed so when she cries he just looks to see if her feeding is on schedule, then gets up and puts the bottle on to warm, and when it's warm, brings it back to mommy so she can feed the baby.

It was the first night daddy and mommy had been out anywhere together since the arrival of their first-born and at the unearthly hour of 2:30 in the morning the baby woke up. The father reached for the little alarm clock to see what time it was and then sauntered sleepily into the kitchen. His wife waited and waited. She had asked him to bring her something from the back bedroom, and he went in to get it, but he just didn't come back. Then she called him several times.

But father was having a little trouble. He had put the pan of water on to warm the bottle and was pretty surprised when he went back to get it. Instead, sitting in the pan of water was the little alarm clock, just ticking away as nice as you please.

He hadn't intended to tell his wife, but he just couldn't keep it. He just had to ask her how those brown spots got on the clock, and when she didn't know he confessed.

And what about the clock? Oh, it is still running just as slick as can be and he still keeps it nearby so he can see if the baby's feeding schedule is about on time. —H.L.

Madness In The Spring

DAGGETT'S refusal to be shaved was a straw in the wind. He had a beard that rivaled Rex Stout's and which almost completely concealed his disfigurement. Rupert's small mustache burgeoned into a noble affair with long waxed points but he was too sophisticated to do justice to cowboy regalia.

"What you need," Daggett told him, "is to replace that modified boy scout suit with the kind of outfit that used to be worn by spielers at the old medicine shows." He fumbled about among a pile of old posters he had unearthed and dug out one that pictured a man in a high silk hat, tail coat, ruffled shirt, tight pants and thigh-length boots.

It was not until Greg made a hasty trip to the state capital to consult dignitaries about this revival of the Old West that the full extent of the collective illusion hit him. Even in Solomon's splendor Rupert could hardly have been conspicuous now. The town was plastered with posters, telling the people about Dead Man's Gulch. Pasty-skinned men with concave chests and convex abdomens strutted along the street on the way to desk or counter in 10-gallon hats and chaps. The department store had replaced nylons and home permanents by riding boots and firearms. The general effect was mildly synthetic but the dream was there.

Greg encountered a young Indian college graduate and arranged to have him bring some members of his tribe to Dead Man's Gulch for the Grand Opening, to provide local color and at the same time pick up some money for themselves by taking orders for moccasins, doing dances, or selling picture postcards.

• • •

ONLY Kirby remained aloof. He did not offer to help with any of the dozen projects that were being carried on. He sauntered around, an occasionally amused, a more frequently bored spectator. Until, that is, he grew restless.

"So far as I can see," he complained to Hannah, "nothing has been done about telecasting the Grand Opening. No one has put the proposition up to Crain. I can't hang around indefinitely. In my job a man is forgotten too soon. I've got to stage a comeback and do it before long."

"Greg will take care of it," Hannah assured him.

"Maybe?" Kirby cocked an eyebrow at her.

"What do you mean by that?"

"The truth is," Kirby admitted, as though surprised by himself, "that what I care most about is being popular with you."

Hannah looked at him quickly, seeking for some indication that he was making fun of her.

"I've never known a girl like you before. I've been fighting clear of entanglements with women. But I'd like to marry you." He laughed with sudden gaiety as he saw her openmouthed amazement. "And if I am going to support a wife," he went on more briskly, "I've got to get a new contract. If Seaver won't take steps I will."

"What can you do?"

"I have a bargaining point." As she did not understand he added, "Rupert Landusky."

He watched while Hannah ran out of doors and after a quick look around set off, skirts flying, hair shaking down around her neck, toward Greg who was supervising the unloading of dishes at the restaurant.

He was waiting quietly when Greg came striding up to him, wearing a bright flannel shirt and a brighter scarf knotted around his neck. Greg's hand shot out and gripped his arm.

"If you turn in Rupert," he said evenly, "I swear you'll get a press that will make you think you won a popularity contest when you were bounced out of your last job."

"What's Landusky to you?" Kirby exclaimed in irritation.

"He's a good guy. But even if he weren't I wouldn't let you get by with a thing like that. Rupert has my word that nothing is going to happen to him here."

"I couldn't care less."

• • •

GREG turned on his heel and Kirby, after a moment's reflection, went through the hotel to the first-floor bedroom where, for several days Daggett had, in his own words, "been taking things easy."

Daggett waved his good hand at a chair. When Kirby had seated himself he asked, "What's on your mind?"

"It's about the television program," he said. "So far as I can make out, Seaver hasn't taken a single step. By his own account, Crain takes him for a lightweight and, after all, I've had years of experience and a big name in radio."

Daggett cocked a sardonic eyebrow. "Your name at this moment is mud."

"I can't go through the rest of my life with amnesia," Kirby told him desperately. "You are holding a gun at my head. It might be wise to recall that I have some ammunition too."

"If you mean Rupert," Daggett said tranquilly, "you've got a blank cartridge. I've got friends in the State Department and I've put the matter up to them. After the Grand Opening Rupert is to leave the country and make a legal re-entry. As for your amnesia, it's in your own hands."

Kirby flung out his hands. "What do you want me to do?"

"Get in touch with Perkins' widow and see that she is provided with some means of support. I don't care whether you have to hamstring yourself for the rest of your life. But make it good."

"And then?" Kirby asked.

"And then," Daggett said, "we release our publicity."

XXXII

A WEEK later, Philip Kirby, the well-known figure of radio, suffering from shock and amnesia, had regained his memory, after two weeks for which he could not account. He had turned up in Dead Man's Gulch and his first action had been to provide for life for the widow of the dead actor.

There were news pictures of Mrs. Perkins reading a telegram from Kirby; interviews with Kirby's public relations man, telling about his vast, unknown charities; accounts of Kirby's successful career and his immense popularity; an editorial on the genuine humility of the man which had led him to acknowledge his mistake and rectify it as far as possible.

Daggett viewed the mounting pile of clippings with awe. "And now we strike while the iron is hot. We announce the restoration of Dead Man's Gulch and give the date of the Grand Opening." He turned to Greg who, with Hannah, had been looking over the news stories. "It's high time your stepfather came into the picture, Greg."

"Yeah." Greg sat brooding, lighting cigarets and stamping them out unsmoked. Everything was swell as long as Crain kept out of the picture. But the moment he came into it, Greg had to see himself through his stepfather's eyes as the guy who couldn't stick to his job, who went Skylarking Around the Country, who didn't Measure Up.

He went out of the room without a word. From the window Daggett saw him take the road that led around the bluff.

The old man shook his head. "He's afraid of himself. He's afraid to take a chance on himself and Crain symbolizes all the things he fears."

"I guess," Hannah said, "we're all running away. Greg because he is afraid to be himself; Rupert because he gets driven on; Mr. Kirby because he doesn't want to face his punishment; me—because I'm afraid to be alone, afraid not to be loved."

"You've left someone out," he reminded her. "You'd better add Wade Daggett, who is afraid to die."

Hannah lifted her head to find his bright eyes smiling at her. "It's terrible to love anyone the way I do Greg," she said simply. "If he cut himself I think I would bleed." She pushed back the lock of fair hair that had fallen over her face. "What should I do?" she demanded fiercely. "How can I make him know that I'm around and I'm a woman and—I'm nice?"

"Well, now, I have one or two ideas."

• • •

"MY darling boy," Milicent Crain said over the telephone, "of course you are to come to dinner. You never need ask. Where I am is always your home." After a pause she said hesitantly, "Horace is very—fond of you."

Horace was gracious but wary and inclined to be heavily humorous about Greg Scampering Around the Country. The chance to speak with Greg alone came after dinner.

"I take it," Crain said, "that you have given up the cross-country trip with this man Daggett. Find you didn't like it any better than the other job?"

"Not at all. It's going full steam ahead. I just came East on a little business."

"Tired of this trip of yours?" Crain asked.

"I've been having the time of my life," Greg replied and realized that this was an evasion, not a complete answer.

Perhaps the trip east had been unsettling; somehow it afforded him another perspective.

Crain cleared his throat. "For my wife's sake, I have given you a home, a sound education and opportunities not only to meet influential people but to get a start in life. You seem to have thrown them away. Bluntly, you have been a disappointment to us both."

Greg was aware that he was trembling as he had always trembled in his stepfather's presence. "I'm sorry I couldn't be the kind of person you wanted."

"I suppose you have run out of money."

"No, sir. I don't need anything. And I won't make any future demands on you."

• • •

CRAIN'S fingers drummed on the table. "What about this man, Wade Daggett? Do you see any Future in Playing Truant from Responsibility as you are doing?"

"I've taken on more responsibility in the past three months than I've ever had in my life. As for Mr. Daggett, he's just about the salt of the earth, that's all."

Crain poured himself a discreet glass of Benedictine. It was, his physician had assured him, admirable as a digestive. "But where are you heading?"

Greg's hands stopped trembling as he grew angry. "Have you ever heard of Dead Man's Gulch?"

"The ghost town that is being restored? Yes, I keep up on current events."

"We are the ones who are opening it up."

"What's the idea—to get the tourist trade? Rather a gamble, isn't it?"

"Only way not to make a mistake," Greg quoted Daggett, "is to be dead. Actually, all I had in mind in the beginning—" he did not observe Crain's surprise—"was the old man. He was born out there and he had his heart set on going back. It meant a lot to him. All I figured on—" Greg fumbled for words—"was to keep him from having too big a disappointment."

Condemn McCarthy Conduct

Senate Votes Official Condemnation Of McCarthy's Conduct On 2 Counts Thur.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Senate voted official condemnation of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's conduct on two counts today by a 67-22 vote, but refused to censure him for a "denunciation" of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker.

In a tense, hushed finale to weeks and months of blazing controversy, the Senate completed its sole major item of business at a four-week extraordinary session by declaring:

1. The Wisconsin Republican's failure to help a 1951-52 investigating subcommittee, and his "abuse" of the group's members, are "condemned" on the ground they obstructed "the constitutional processes of the Senate."

2. McCarthy's "Communist handmaiden" and other charges against the Watkins committee, which recommended censure for him, likewise are "hereby condemned."

But another count — abuse of Zwicker when the general appeared before McCarthy's Investigations subcommittee last February—never even came to a vote. By a 64-23 margin, the Senate voted to rebuke McCarthy for his blasts at the Watkins committee instead.

McCarthy, his injured arm in a sling, came into the chamber when the final vote was in progress.

He paused at the center rear door, then walked slowly behind the last row of seats on the Republican side just as the man who started the censure move, 74-year-old Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), sang out a firm "Aye!"

Grinning, McCarthy laid a hand on Flanders' shoulder with a sort of let - bygones - be - bygones air. Flanders looked up, shook a forefinger at McCarthy and, his expression unsmiling, said something inaudible from the galleries.

McCarthy took his seat then, voted "present" rather than "aye" or "no" when his name was called, and was deep in a conversation with Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), who had voted against him, when the final tally was announced. McCarthy didn't even look up.

Later McCarthy told newsmen he was "very happy to get this circus over."

"I don't feel any different than I did last night," he said. He had referred to the Senate proceedings last night as "a foul job."

"I am very happy to get back to the job of digging Communists out of the government," he asserted tonight. "It will get under way officially again on Monday after 10 months of inaction."

Noting that the Senate resolution about his conduct used the word "condemned" instead of "censured," a reporter asked McCarthy if he thought he had been consured.

"I wouldn't say it was a vote of confidence," he replied.

A reporter then referred to McCarthy's statement of several weeks ago that the present Senate session was "a lynch bee," aid asked:

"Senator, do you feel like you have been lynched?"

"No," replied McCarthy smilingly. "But I am disappointed with my Democratic colleagues. The Democrats went down the line in voting for censure although they said it would be a judicial proceeding."

The senator was asked if he planned to continue "rough" tactics in future investigations and, if he did, if he expected he would be censured again.

"As long as I continue to dig Communists out of the government I'll be subject to criticism and investigations," he replied. "There have been five already and I expect there will be more."

McCarthy was asked if there was anything to reports that he might break away from the Republican party to form an independent organization.

"There's nothing to it," he shot back. "I am a Republican and intend to remain a Republican. And I will do my work within the Republican party because that's the best place.

"That became evident today when Democrats went down the line for censure."

Some of McCarthy's supporters put on a burst of hilarity at the end of the big Senate controversy on whether to rebuke him.

Laughing, Sen. Bridges (R-N-H) asked if the word "censure" appeared anywhere in the resolution finally adopted at this "McCarthy censure session." Vice President Nixon, in the chair, replied that it did not.

"Then it is not a censure resolution?" inquired Bridges, while Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) doubled up with laughter and other McCarthy backers grinned broadly.

Nixon replied that the resolution relates to the conduct of McCarthy—and that senators can make their own interpretation of it.

There was another immediate followup:

Flanders, who launched the now successful rebuke-McCarthy drive with a floor speech last June 1, arose and apologized to the Senate and to McCarthy—who had left by that time—for some of his remarks.

Flanders didn't say exactly what he was apologizing for, but asked unanimous consent to have "a few

Jerry Trotter Gives Tax Figures---

Pettis Co. Assessments Amount To More Than $50 Million in '54

The tax assessments in Pettis County this year amount to more than $50 million.

This was reported by Jerry Trotter, Pettis County assessor, in a talk to the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday noon at the Bothwell Hotel.

Trotter, in his talk on tax assessments and taxes, explained the duties of the assessor, the functions of his office and how assessments are made. He also said that assessments in Pettis County in 1954 total $50,832,266.

If this tax assessment is maintained, he said, it will in five years make Pettis County a second class county instead of a third class county.

He said that Clay County has been designated a second class county only recently by virtue of its assessments being above the $50 million figure for more than five years.

In brief Trotter explained Pettis County has a total assessment of $50,832,266 as compared with 1953, when it was $49,720,852, or an increase of $1,111,414. The increase is due greatly to the new construction throughout the county, as well as here in Sedalia.

He said the total real estate is $29,380,940, as compared with the previous year when it was $28,816,680. This includes, of course, the City of Sedalia, small towns of the county and farm lands. This was an increase of $564,260.

Total personal assessments are $10,947,760 as compared to $10,626,169, an increase of $321,591.

The two gave an increase of $885,851.

Corporations were taxed $9,109,551 as compared to $9,074,271 last year, an increase of $35,280. The advalorem tax is $1,390,170, compared with $1,270,485, an increase of $119,635.

Trotter told the group there are 1,239 horses in the county valued at $30,300, or an average valuation of $24.45; 43,735 head of cattle with a total valuation of $1,910,940, for an average of $43.62; there are 21,755 hogs valued at $371,040, averaging $17.06; and 176,502 poultry valued at $65,770 for an average of 37 cents. Farm machinery is valued at $1,305,110 and household property $1,440,790.

There were 9,142 cars in the county for 1953 as compared to 10,136 in 1954, with a valuation of $4,660,360 in 1953 as compared to $5,153,850 in 1954.

In closing he stated the tax is $1.50 city and $2.87 county, or a total of $4.37 on the $100 valuation.

Following his talk Trotter answered questions of the Lions on various areas and how the assessment tructure is enforced.

Trotter was introduced by Richard Truman, acting program chairman of the meeting for Virgil Ragar, who was unable to be present.

The club voted a contribution to the St. James Boys Town, St. James, Mo., of which the Lions Clubs of Missouri take an active part in supporting.

Dr. David Robinson, president, conducted the meeting.

New Knob Noster Elementary School Is Nearly Completed

The new, $270.000 elementary school building in Knob Noster is nearly completed and may be occupied in mid-January, according to Supt J. E. Jageman.

The walls are being painted and cabinets installed and the blackboards have arrived for installation. The enterior is complete and the wiring is all done. The furniture is due Jan. 1 and will consist of 400 units. The first four grades will have separate desks and chairs, and the upper grades will have universal units — desks, with attached swivel chairs.

Laying asphalt tile on the floors will be the last job, Jageman said.

The building has 16 classrooms, a large multi-purpose room to be used as a cafeteria and playroom, two offices, a health room, rest rooms, storage and supply space and a heating plant. One wing has two stories with four classrooms upstairs and four downstairs, while the rest of the building is on one floor.

The classrooms in the two story wing are self-contained rooms for the lower grades, meaning they each have a separate rest room. The other eight classrooms do not have rest rooms, but they do have sinks and fountains.

Once the building is ready for occupation, the elementary classes in Knob Noster will be moved to it. At the present there are four elementary classes in the high school building and another four downtown—two in the basement of the Latter Day Saints Church and two in the American Legion hall. The downtown classes contain about 100 pupils.

In addition, six rural schools will be discontinued, and the children and their teachers will move to the new building in Knob Noster. These rural schools are Hepsidam, Prairie Home, Maplewood, Valley City, Lowland and Montserrat. There is also a third grade being conducted in a rural building at Brushville, and this class too, will be moved to the new building.

This will permit the high school to rearrange its classes and its schedule. For instance, there are adjoining rooms upstairs, separated by a folding door, that once were used for study halls. Lately only one has been used as a study hall while the other was used as a classroom, because of the crush of enrollment.

The influx of children from the rural schools will also mean two new school buses will have to be purchased, bringing the total to six. The routes will be rescheduled.

Govt. Rests Case On Union Leaders In Racketeering

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Dec. 2 (AP)—The government rested its case today in the trial of AFL leader Evan R. Dale and another southern Illinois union official on charges of labor racketeering.

Immediately after the announcement the government was resting its case, Defense Attorney John J. Hoban asked that one of the government's chief witness be recalled for further cross-examination.

The trial was recessed while efforts were made to locate the witness, Clinton J. Sammond, industrial relations consultant for Ebasco Services.

Dale, head of the AFL Laborers' Union in southern Illinois, and Bateman, business representative of an AFL Pipefitters local at Murphysboro, Ill., are charged with attempting to extort $1,030,000 from Ebasco when that firm was general contractor for a big power plant construction project at Joppa, Ill.

Dale alone is charged with extorting $7,500 from a subcontractor on the job, which was plagued with frequent work stoppages before Ebasco was replaced as the prime contractor.

The defense has announced it will require about two weeks for presentation of its case. Among witnesses subpoenaed by the defense is Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois.

State Reformatory Inmate Admits Beating Girl, Robbing Her Home

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 2 (AP)—The highway patrol said William Bruce Jr., 18, of St. Louis, an inmate of the state reformatory, today admitted beating up an Osage City girl while robbing her home early yesterday.

Darlene Hoffman, 17, suffering a broken jaw, cuts and bruises from the beating, was reported in fair condtion at a hospital here.

The patrol said Bruce, in a signed statement, gave this account:

He slipped away from the Algoa Reformatory just before breakfast and went to the nearby Monroe Hoffman farm. While the parents were milking he searched the house. The Hoffman's son was sleeping but Darlene awakened and started screaming when he opened her bedroom door.

He slugged her with his fists until she promised to be quiet. He continued his search but when he didn't find any money he got a butcher knife from the kitchen and threatened her with it until she told him where to find a billfold in a desk.

Bruce took $19 and a telescope, hid them in a hole near the reformatory rock quarry, and returned in time to join the inmates' chow line for breakfast.

The patrol recovered the money and telescope.

Bruce was held in the Cole County jail tonight.

The governor told Wheeler the national conference must be held before Nov. 30, 1955, and he asked that the Missouri session be completed before that time. He noted that the federal government has allotted Missouri $16,517 as an initial cost allowance toward the state conference costs.

Testifies Of Tampering On Murder Scene

Sheppard's Brother Takes Up Defense In Murder Trial

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2—(AP)—Dr. Stephen Sheppard launched the defense of his brother's life today, testifying there was tampering on the scene of Marilyn Sheppard's July 4 murder.

The brother, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, is on trial for his life, accused of murdering his wife after an affair with another woman.

Dr. Steve said police pictures show Marilyn's lifeless arms in a different position than he found them that morning. And he testified Dr. Sam's brown jacket was not neatly folded on a downstairs couch—a key claim in the state's attempt to send the 30-year-old Dr. Sam to the electric chair.

The witness, 34, described his youngest brother as a kind parent, a thoughtful, loving husband who brought home unexpected gifts and was ready with compliments on his wife's new dress. He also called him "the most level-headed of our entire family."

Dr. Samuel, one of a family of four osteopaths, is accused of beating Marilyn to death for love of Susan Hayes, a 24-year-old former technician in his hospital.

The defendant claims a bushy-haired prowler killed his wife and twice knocked him unconscious when he rushed to her aid.

Dr. Stephen still was under direct questioning by the defense when court adjourned for the day. He will resume his testimony tomorrow.

Much of the afternoon was devoted to emphasizing injuries Dr. Samuel claims he suffered at the hands of the alleged prowler. Dr. Stephen testified he examined his brother and found a brain concussion, a spinal cord injury, that some of his teeth were jarred loose and two of them apparently chipped. The state has minimized the extent of the injuries.

Only yesterday the state ridiculed Dr. Samuel as a man who took time to fold his corduroy jacket neatly before responding to his wife's death screams. Police testified the jacket was neatly folded on the couch where Dr. Sam claimed to be sleeping when his wife cried out.

The state contends the jacket makes a lair out of the defendant, because it would have been crumpled if he had laid on it or if he had risen up suddenly and cast it aside. He was wearing it when he went to sleep on the couch.

Defense attorney William J. Corrigan asked Dr. Stephen, the first of seven potential Sheppard family defense witnesses, and an early arrival on the murder scene:

"As you passed the couch did you notice the jacket?"

"Yes," replied Dr. Stephen, a handsome man with steel gray hair and a lighter build than his husky brother.

"On the floor," he responded. "As I went by I stepped over this garment."

The witness testified that after he viewed Marilyn's body in her upstairs bedroom and came down again, he again had to step over the jacket.

His testimony was intended to support a defense claim that investigators and others in the house either by accident or design moved objects around and otherwise tampered with the scene.

The defense has suggested Dr. Samuel, while still half asleep, removed the jacket because he became warm, then dozed off again.

As for Marilyn's body, Dr. Stephen testified he found it with arms extended down with palms up on either side of the body, and with the mouth partly agape.

Grains End Evenly On Chicago Grain Board Thursday

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—Plus and minus signs were about evenly divided throughout the grain list at the close on the Board of Trade today. It was a day of quite active dealing which never produced either a wide upward or downward swing.

Wheat had a better undertone than anything else and the firmness in that grain was a help to rye, which advanced after getting off to a poor start. Soybeans were easier, except for the September contract which represents the 1955 crop.

Wheat closed ¼-½ higher, corn ¾ lower to ½ higher, oats ⅜ lower to 1 cent higher, rye ½-1¼ higher, Soybeans 1½ lower to ½ higher.

A slight revival in export business was a help to wheat. Greece bought 2,240,000 bushels of hard wheat overnight. The Foreign Operations Administration granted 1½ million dollars to Denmark to buy American bread grains.

Traders also noted there has been no break in the dry spell in most of the Southwest, precipitation which was expected in some areas having failed to materialize. It is the July and September futures which respond most quickly to 1955 winter wheat crop prospects.

Cash corn receipts expanded a little to 204 cars but spot prices remained firm. Both Holland and Great Britain bought a little corn, Austria is expected to purchase 800,000 bushels over the week end.

December oats, very weak yesterday, staged a good rally on short covering.

Driver Is Hurt When His Truck Catches Fire

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2 (AP)—The cab of a tank truck carrying milk caught fire here today and the driver, Wayne Williamson of Monett, Mo., suffered a fractured wrist and burns about the arms, hands and face.

Williamson told police flames suddenly burst from under the dashboard. The truck went out of control, jumped a curb and smashed into a tree.

The truck itself was destoryed by the flames but firemen prevented the flames from spreading to the tank trailer. Williamson was taken to City Hospital.

Urge UN Move For Airmen

US To Request UN Action On Red China For Release Of 11 Sentenced Americans

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 2 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. announced today the United States will request the U. N. to move for the release of 11 American aviators sentenced to jail as spies in Red China. Lodge said he is confident the United States will get support here.

The chief American delegate to the U. N. rushed from conferences at the State Department to a meeting of the 16 U. N. members who fought the Reds in Korea and then told newsmen:

"Great concern was expressed by all present at the fate of the 11 aviators and no doubt action will be taken by the United Nations.

"The United States is going to request action and we are confident we will be supported both for the sake of our prisoners and others.

"We are going to act to do everything we can to keep faith with these men. They are U. N. men as well as United States men.

"This organization can't go on if it does not stand by people who go to bat for it when it gets into trouble."

Lodge and other delegates in the conference, which lasted more than an hour, said there would be another meeting tomorrow. They said the delegates in the conference will consult their governments at once in an effort to decide the best course of action.

Meeting with Lodge were top delegates of Britain, France, Canada, Australia, Belgium, Colombia, Ethiopia, Greece, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, New Zealand, The Philippines, Thailand and Turkey. South Africa has held aloof from the political talks on the future of Korea but rejoined the group this afternoon on the case of the American aviators.

The Red Chinese announced that 13 Americans had been sentenced to jail terms on charges of spying. James J. Wadsworth, deputy United States delegate, denounced that action in the U. N. political committee yesterday as having been taken on "trumped up charges." Several senators in Washington have called for action. President Eisenhower in his news conference this afternoon, while Lodge was talking with the delegates, said he did not see how the U. N. could disabuse itself of the responsibility for dealing with the problem and at the same time retain its self respect.

Lodge confined his statement to 11 American aviators in the U. N. forces. He said the other two Americans mentioned in the Red Chinese announcement were not in the U. N. forces and therefore were not included in the action contemplated here. He indicated they should be released, however, and said they are Americans just like the others.

The cases of the aviators overshadowed the debate on the Korean situation. At a committee meeting, Britain's Anthony Nutting, speaking for the U. N. side in the Korean War, rejected a Soviet proposal for a new Korean peace conference between the U. N. side and the Communists.

Nutting told the U. N. Assembly's Political Committee that the Communists have shown they still are opposed to the basic U. N. position for continued negotiations. He said, therefore, the resolution put up by Russia's Jacob Malik for a new conference "offers no hope."

The British chief delegate pointed out that the U. N. and the Communists agree that the objective is a "unified, independent and democratic" Korea. He said that Rip Van Winkle, awakening today, possibly could not see any difference in the two conceptions but that actually "independent" in the Soviet sense meant "independent of the United Nations" and "democratic" meant "essentially Communist." He said as long as both sides cannot agree on these single words there would be no meaning in a conference.

Nutting said the Korean question is not as "acute and perilous" as in the past.

One Killed, 3 Hurt In Series Of Gas Blasts

Mrs. Karl Gonser, Mother Of Sedalian Dr. Karl Gonser, Is Critically Hurt

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Dec. 2—(AP)—One man was killed and three persons were injured, one critically, as a series of gas explosions rocked an 8-unit apartment building during a fire today.

The dead man was identified as Matt Kennedy, 30, who was crushed beneath the debris.

Kennedy, a spectator, had gone to the assistance of Mrs. Karl Gonser, about 60, operator of the apartment building, who was knocked down on a back porch by the second of the series of three explosions.

Two firemen were injured, neither seriously.

Fire Chief Robert Schroeder said he was not certain whether all occupants were out of the building.

Mrs. Gonser was taken to a hospital, where attendants described her condition as "very critical."

As Kennedy went to assist Mrs. Gonser, the third and most severe explosion knocked out a section of the upper second story brick wall.

Firemen succeeded in rescuing Mrs. Gonser after working 25 minutes to clear the wreckage which fell on her. She reportedly suffered fractures of both legs and possible internal injuries.

Mrs. Karl Gonser, 60, critically injured in a series of explosions of her apartment building Thursday afternoon, is the mother of Dr. Karl B. Gonser, 1619 West Broadway.

Dr. Gonser was notified early in the afternoon and with his family left Sedalia for Leavenworth.

According to information received in Sedalia late Thursday afternoon, Mr. Gonser is in the Cushing Memorial hospital at Leavenworth as a result of a heart attack suffered on Tuesday. His condition was reported to be serious. He had not been told of the accident to his wife.

It was reported from Leavenworth that a smell of gas was noted in the apartment building and the fire departments called at 12:18 p.m. Shortly after their arrival and discovery of a fire in the basement of the building, a series of explosions followed.

The explosions came about 12:30 it was said. At the time of the first explosion Mrs. Gonser was standing in the yard by a tree and then went to a back porch. No sooner had she got to the porch than a second explosion occurred and she was knocked down.

Several spectators, seeing her, rushed to her aid, one of them being a man identified at Matt Kennedy, an electrician who was attracted to the scene from a building four blocks away where he was working. As the third explosion occurred knocking out a wall, the spectators scrambled to safety, all escaping except Kennedy, who it was reported apparently tripped and fell.

Kennedy and Mrs. Gonser were covered by debris. He was dead when they recovered his body. Mrs. Gonser suffered severe injuries to her legs, both being broken, one of which it was reported was nearly torn away.

Mrs. Gonser is also in the Cushing Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gonser owned the eight-unit apartment building.

Convict KC Negro Lawyer For Murder Of A Kansas Attorney

LAWRENCE, Kan., Dec. 2 (AP)—Phillip Johnson, 68, a Kansas City Negro lawyer, was convicted here today of first degree murder in the slaying of Leroy Harris, Lowrence Negro attorney and justice of the peace.

A district court jury deliberated about 90 minutes in reaching the verdict and recommended life imprisonment at hard labor.

Judge Floyd Coffman passed the sentence. Milton P. Allen, county attorney, had urged the death penalty.

Harris was shot in his office May 28. Shortly after the shooting Johnson appeared at the police station, said he had just shot Harris and turned over the murder weapon.

Johnson said he bought the pistol at a sporting goods store while walking from the bus station to Harris' office.

Johnson's motive never was made clear. He said Harris reached into a desk drawer as though reaching for a gun when Johnson entered the office. Police said there was no weapon in the drawer.

Pope Pius Suffers Collapse

Has Severe Collapse; Romans Gather To Pray For Recovery Of Their Pope, Bishop

VATICAN CITY, Friday, Dec. 3—(AP)—Pope Pius XII has suffered a severe collapse, with a weakening of the gallant heart that has served him through 55 years of priesthood. Early today there was grave anxiety for his life.

Through the night, troubled Romans gathered in spacious St. Peter's Square and knelt on the cobblestones to pray for recovery of their Pope and bishop.

The Vatican's vicar general, Clement Cardinal Micara, urged the world's 425 million Roman Catholics to join in the prayers.

Dr. Riccardo Galeszzi-Lisi, physician to the 78-year-old pontiff, was constantly at his side. He had made emergency X-rays and called in a surgeon for consultation.

The Pope had been ill before in the nearly 16 years he had headed the church, but never so gravely.

This illness—starting as a recurrence of the gastritis and hiccuping that sapped the Pope's strength last winter—became serious last weekend. His collapse yesterday weakened his heart, and there also was an indication that his condition was aggravated by an ulcer.

He was extremely weak and had been unable to take any food by mouth for several days. His physician yesterday afternoon described the Pope as conscious and completely lucid. But apparently he was unconscious for a time after his collapse.

One Rome newspaper said he had asked for Extreme Unction, the sacrament administered to Catholics in danger of death. But the Vatican press office denied that Pius had asked for the last sacrament.

In the hushed corridors of the vast Vatican palace, church dignitaries waited anxiously.

At midnight, Msgr. Angelo Dell 'Acqua, substitute secretary of state, had a word of cheer with the announcement, "The situation is unchanged. There is nothing new."

But highly placed sources made it clear the Pope's condition was indeed serious.

Cardinal Micara announced the Pope would be unable to attend the closing ceremony of the Marian year, to be held Dec. 8 in Rome's Basilica of St. Mary Major.

Rome's Mayor Salvatore Rebecchini interrupted a session of the City Council to express the wish for preservation of the Pope's life. The entire Council, including Communists, stood in hushed silence as the mayor spoke.

From Washington, President Eisenhower also expressed hope for Pius' speedy recovery.

Eight Miners Die, 11 Hurt In Mine Blast

BOGOTA, Columbia, Dec. 2 (AP)—Eight miners died and 11 were injured in an explosion at a coal mine Monday, it was disclosed today.

The mine, in Boyaca State, is owned by the steel mill Acerias Paz del Rio.

Crossroads Comment . . . by G.H.S.

Bashing windows out of Bob Moore's home on West Fifth street recently was bad enough from the standpoint of juvenile irresponsibility — drat that word, delinquency — but the episode of smashing 63 windows of the new Wesley Methodist church on West Broadway justifies even more forceful expression of indignation.

Certainly kids will be kids, but this window breaking mania is exhausting the patience of tolerance. Identifying youthful culprits who have developed a phobia for window-breaking should not be too difficult by routine investigation on the basis of what knowledge is already available.

When the boys are found out, modern parental behavior will probably dictate only a stern lecture in order not to upset the nervous balance of the guilty adolescents.

Despite so-called modern techniques of stressing obedience and morality in children, the good, old fashioned handy paddle, once kept in the house or shed, has done more for society than the psychological approach used today.

Most members of the older generation have not yet gone nuts because of memory of the time they swiped watermelons from in front of Major Coleman's grocery on Ohio Street in 1906, broke windows, or disputed the authority of the head of the house, in exchange for which they received a deserved thrashing and were restricted to the domestic premises for a month even though a circus came to town.

There are times for lectures and times for paddling. But it's time parents accepted individual responsibility to curb the defiance of the new deal juveniles. Perhaps a whack or two will help.

United States And Kai-Shek's Nationalist China Sign Mutual Security Treaty Thursday

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—(AP)—United States and Nationalist China today signed a mutual security treaty in which the United States pledged that it would consider an attack on Formosa "dangerous to its own peace and safety."

The pact, which will last indefinitely, was signed by Secretary of State Dulles for the United States and by Foreign Minister George Yeh of the Republic of China. This is the formal name of Chiang Kaishek's regime.

The key position in the text, which the State Department released after it was signed, says:

"Each party recognizes that an armed attack in the west Pacific area directed against the territories of either of the parts would be dangerous to its own peace and safety and declares it would act to meet the common danger in accordance with its constitutional processes."

Dulles said yesterday that in the case of extreme urgency he thought the President would have the power to order U. S. forces into action if Red China attacks Formosa after the treaty becomes effective, but if time permitted the President would go to Congress."

The treaty made clear that the reference to territories covered Formosa and the nearby Pescadore Islands and U. S.-ruled islands in the Western Pacific. The Republic of China granted and the United States accepted formally the right to base land, air and sea forces in or about Formosa and the Pescadores.

One of the key provisions pledges that the two governments "will consult together from time to time" on defense problems. Dulles said yesterday he expected this would take care of the problem of Nationalist China's operations against the mainland.

The treaty began with a declaration of a desire "to live in peace with all peoples and all governments."

The United States has been attempting to discourage Nationalist China from attacking the Communist-held mainland. A purpose of the treaty is to help stabilize the Formosa region.

The United States and Nationalist China in other provisions committed themselves to work together for "economic progress and social well-being."

They also pledged that they would "maintain and develop their individual and collective capacities to resist armed attack and Communist subversive activities directed from without against their territorial integrity and political stability."

President Esenhower will submit the treaty to the Senate for a vote on ratification next session. The time clause states that the treaty "shall remain in force indefinitely." However, it may be terminated at any time upon one year's notice.

Playhouse Director, Assistants Bring Varied Background to Jobs

A well-rounded cast comprises the acting personnel of "Faithfully Yours," which will be presented by the Sedalia Community Playhouse at the Liberty Theater Nov. 30 and December 1. A cast, however, is just as good as the direction. Based on this premise, "Faithfully Yours" should be one of the best productions ever presented in Sedalia.

An unexpected turn of events within the past couple of weeks has caused the play to take on an atmosphere of an Orson Welles production without being sinister. The patrons of the Playhouse will benefit greatly from this, as they will not only be able to see Director Mike Campbell, a young man with professional acting experience, direct "Faithfully Yours" but take an important role in the play as well. Because of a conflict in a working schedule of the original member of the cast playing the part of Dr. Peter Wilson, a "quack" psychiarist, it was necessary for someone to step in and fill this hilarious role. Campbell, seasoned that he is in stock company work, made the transition without any efforts at all.

A 2/c Campbell, SAFB, director-actor, brings with him to Sedalia an enviable background in the theater arts. He is a graduate from the University of Oregon, where he majored in dramatics. He also took graduate work in dramatics at the University of Utah. He has done stock company work with the Anne Russell Stock Company, Winter Park, Fla.; the Theater in the Round and Children's Theater in Salt Lake City; and with several stock companies in the vicinity of Eugen Ore. He has appeared in light opera, musical comedies, and has acted in radio and TV. Campbell has either directed, produced, or taken roles in such plays as "Detective Story," "Cyrano de Bergerac," "Glass Menagerie," "All the King's Men," and "Mad Woman of Chaillot." This will be his first effort with the Sedalia Community Playhouse, since he was only recently stationed with the Air Force in this area.

Director Campbell has selected two assistant directors to help him produce "Faithfully Yours." One of these individuals is well known to Playhouse audiences. Eva Myers, who has had important parts in previous productions, is well qualified and a valuable asset to the play. She has previously played the role of Ruth in "Blithe Spirit"; Elaine in "Arsenic and Old Lace"; and Violet in "My Sister Eileen". In other plays she has done work behind the scenes.

Eva, who is the wife of Maj. Herman Myers, the assistant adjutant of the Sedalia National Guard, formed her interest in making public appearances early in life at St. Joseph, her hometown. She appeared regularly over St. Joseph radio stations in "Runyan's Revue" and "Rose Herzog's Dramatic Workshop". Her talents were not only confined to the acting field, but she has also been a vocalist and dancer. Crowd Lines Sedalia Streets to See Parade Held in Honor of White-Whiskered Visitor

The day was chilly but very bright and all along the route people were lined on both sides of the street as thick as could be from Broadway to Main on Ohio. They were on Main just as thick too, and scattered only a little more thinly along Osage. All along from the starting point were cars and people on the street, for it was a big day in Sedalia Saturday morning. A celebrity with white whiskers and wearing a red suit was in town and riding on a fire truck in the parade in his honor.

It was a flashing parade, too, one with color and music and clowns—why, it even had Indians. The clowns and Indians were popular not only because all children love clowns and Indians, but these were throwing candy into the crowd and children were scampering to catch it or pick it up as it fell to the ground.

This was certainly a real Christmas parade. Leading it, following the police cars, was the Smith-Cotton Band with the little majorettes in typical Chrismas costumes of red and white and the band playing "Jingle Bells." All through were bands, and Hughesville not only had red and white suits for its majorettes, but for its band members as well. And what should be leading the Hughesville band but two of Santa's tiny helpers. A girl and a boy in their red suits and their packs of toys. There was music and lots of it in this parade—the LaMonte band, the Smithton band, the Tipton band and the popular Wentworth Military Academy Band from Lexington.

Winners in the parade were 4-H Clubs, first, Maplewood 4-H Club and second, Quisenberry 4-H Club. Maplewood had an exceptionally realistic nativity scene with the hay and the manger and the youngsters dressed in costume. Quisenberry had a group of boys and a fireplace and a large sign on the float, "We wish you a Merry Christmas."

The civic organizations prizes went to the Missouri Pacific Women's Club, first, Military Order of Cooties and Lady Bugs, Put 'n Take No. 12, second and the Business and Professional Women's Club third. The first prize float was entitled "Christmas in Candyland" and had big candy canes, stick candy, peppermint drops, boxes of candy, candy of all kinds. The second float was depicting the work carried on by the organization of Lady Bugs and Cooties, the gifts taken at Christmas and other times during the year to disabled and sick veterans in the hospitals. The third was Business and Professional Women in black robes and white collars singing Christmas carols.

For sororities, Beta Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi won first prize with an old time sleigh with the family and gifts going to grandma's for Christmas.

The First Congregational-Central Presbyterian Church won first for churches, with a miniature white church. Second went to the Salvation Army, which had a nativity scene.

First in schools went to LaMonte, which had a beautiful float of blue and silver called "Silver Bells." A large silver bell was in front and a group of small silver bells in the back. The second went to Smith-Cotton, which had a clever Christmas idea with pixies lighting the big red Christmas candles. Third went to St. Patrick's School for its religious float with the altar and angels.

In the industrial exhibits, the Sedalia Air Force Base was first with a model of a jet bomber and men from the air base. With them was Santa's helper, the pilot that flew him to the Sedalia Air Force Base. He had white whiskers and a red suit, too, and a friendly fellow he was, waving at everybody. In this class the second award went to Ralph Hamlin, who had a badly wrecked car, a thing that might happen from careless driving over the holidays, and on the side was a sign which read: "Enjoy your year, drive carefully."

There were other nice floats in the parade, too, and three saddle clubs, the Western Horsemen, the State Fair and the Otterville, which pleased the youngsters. They liked the horses and the riders who looked like real cowboys from way out west.

The Boy Scouts and even the Cubs added to the parade.

There were the dignitaries and the new 1955 cars, and of course, old St. Nick, himself.

The parade, which was built in just two weeks, was one of the best parades ever held in Sedalia. Nobody could find anything wrong with it, and Ed Kehde, chairman, was smiling brightly. He and his committee were mighty glad it was over. They did so appreciate the cooperation they received, even from the weatherman. And the Chamber of Commerce that sponsored the whole thing was happy to know that so many people came to town to see it. There were people everywhere, and children from tiny tots not old enough to walk on up to big ones, their faces beaming, for this was Santa's own parade— and theirs.

Old-Fashioned Hospitality Still Thrives——

Real Thanksgiving Is Provided For Romigs By Their Neighbors Northwest Of Sedalia

It was Thanksgiving week that a group of men went to the home of a sick neighbor and hauled the crop of corn they had just picked to the barn. And in the house was a real thanksgiving, for the hearts of the man and his wife were overflowing with gratitude.

But the first part of the story started in June. Charles Romig, who, with his wife have lived on the same farm northwest of Sedalia for 36 years, and had raised their four children there, became ill. He had always been active in the community in which he lived, a layman in the Dresden Methodist Church, a director of the Farm Bureau and in the MFA, and a 4-H Club leader.

This year he had put out his crop as usual and then took sick. The crop needed care. It was the day he was taken to the hospital that the neighbors went to his home with tractors to plow his corn. Later they combined the small grain, bailed and hauled the straw.

Then this past week the corn pickers came and brought their own lunches. They had a little something special, though, coffee and a big cake baked by Mrs. Lorenz Raabe. Those who helped were Everett Keele, Elza Pittman, Owen Tevis, Frank Van Natta, Lorenz Raabe, Dueard Edwards, Paul Gottschalk, Harold Johnson, Ernest Benz, J. E. Farris and William Strelow.

If anyone tries to say that the old-fashioned neighborliness does not exist any more, the Romig family knows better. People have done so many nice things ever since Mr. Romig became ill.

Maybe it would be well to look for those good things instead of the bad, for contrary to the belief of many people that neighbors and friends no longer do things for families where there is adversity, such stories are often found, not among just the rural people but those in town, too. Such things leave a warmth in the hearts of those who have been helped and to all give a greater faith in their fellowman. When anyone says "People just don't do good and neighborly things like they used to," it is nice to remember that such people do still exist—people like Mr. Romig's neighbors.

Garden Clubs Will Exhibit Christmas Floral Decorations

The Sedalia Garden Clubs will have an exhibit of Christmas arrangements again this year at the Sedalia Public Library Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 4-5. The orginal ideas and creative ability of Garden Club members assure a good show and one that will carry out the sacredness of Christmas, the various traditions and the imagination that comes with the season.

Mrs. Mary Wild, 101, Has Visit By Clown During Santa Parade

Mrs. Mary Wild, 101 years old, had a good view of the parade sitting in a window over on 16th. She had been invited over by Mrs. Roy Colaflower, 1523 South Osage, who knew it would be a perfect place for Mrs. Wild to see Santa and the parade because there was a nice window on the 16th street side of her home.

When a car drove up and blocked the view Mrs. Colaflower went out and told them about Mrs. Wild and asked the man to move his car. He did. When a truck drove up she went out again and the four men in the truck didn't hesitate at all—they went right on to another place.

Mrs. Wild really liked the parade, too, and when the clowns and Indians came by, one of the Indians was tipped off by Mrs. Colaflower that Mrs. Wild was there, so in he went and gave her some of the candy. She might not have had the same kind of thrill at seeing Santa that she had 97 or 98 years ago, but it was a thrill just the same.

McCarthy

paragraphs" stricken from the Senate's permanent files.

Sen. Welker (R-Idaho), McCarthy's unofficial floor manager, demanded of the elderly Vermonter: "Why did you not apologize before this later hour?"

Flanders replied he would pick his own time for apologies.

"Then I object," Welker shouted, and so Flanders' whole June 1 speech, which compared McCarthy with Hitler and referred to a "mystery" about McCarthy's personal relationship with two aides, stayed in the permanent record.

McCarthy's supporters held the floor throughout most of this last bitter day of the controversy—and they made the most of the Senate's refusal to go along with the Watkins committee's recommendation that the senator be censured for the tongue-lashing he gave Gen. Zwicker.

At one point, Jenner rose and in a voice chocked with laughter demanded:

"You know, this has turned out to be a rather amusing affair. What worries me is: What happened to Zwicker? Zwicker has been thrown out the window. Poor old Zwicker. He does not count now."

Then Jenner launched into one of the most impassioned speeches the Senate has seen in months—and the heat level has been high throughout this debate.

Face flushed, arms threshing, the agile Indianian cried out in a voice that carried full and clear to the corridors outside the chamber:

"It does not matter what happens to a general, but be careful what you do to a senator. Senators are in a different category."

Louder and more acrobatic as he went on, Jenner shouted that the Democrats were responsible for putting Communists "in the highest points in our government."

"I warned the country that the same thing would happen to the Republican party," he declared, "and it is happening. But you are not going to gild the lily. We are all guilty of sin, but by your deeds and by your votes the world and the country will know you."

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Administration statements on Far Eastern policy have gone just about as far as possible now toward clearing up the United States attitude, but whether it will satisfy the "get tougher" demands of the Republican Senate faction led by Sen. Knowland remained in doubt.

Secretary Dulles has now made two particularly lucid statements on the subject. As it stands, the United States will defend Formosa and the Pescadores if they are attacked.

Retaliation will be made to fit the grade of any aggression, with all-out attack on the mainland always remaining a possibility. In other words, the Chinese Reds are put on notice that which they enjoyed during the Korean war as a part of Allied they cannot expect anything like the Manchurian "sanctuary" policy to keep the engagement strictly limited.

As for the Knowland suggestion for a naval blockade to force release of American prisoners by Peiping, Dulles clarified statements he and the President had made apparently ruling it out. It is something which might still be adopted if other measures fail, he said. But he and the President still were determined to avoid warlike moves.

Some other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee immediately expressed approval of the new treaty with Chiang Kaishek's Nationalists which implements the Formosa policy, but Knowland had no immediate comment.

He was in the midst of another split with the administration over the McCarthy issue, having chosen finally to support the Wisconsin senator against censure. McCarthy is also a member of the "get tough with Peiping" group.

Knowland has said that he may not be as far away from the administration on the China issue as it seemed, but he gave the appearance of a man who was going away, not coming back.

Formation of the Knowland-McCarthy entente on these two controversial questions led to immediate wonder among political observers whether it might be the forerunner of a battle with the Eisenhower middle-of-the-roaders for party dominance, or least dominance of what will soon be the Republican minority in the Senate.

One point the blockade advocates were expected to raise in the new Congress, if indeed they do not do so now, is the possibility that a blockade could be conducted by the Chinese Nationalists if they were supplied with the ships necessary.

The Nationalists are actively promoting this idea behind the scenes, as against military estimates that even the United States would need British cooperation.

The problockaders may couple this idea, however, with their long-standing contention that primary enforcement of the blockade could begin by telling nations which receive American foreign aid to stop shipments on pain of losing it.

Meanwhile, the Nationalists are also expected to get renewed support from the blockade adovcates for their contention that the forces they have prepared for a mainland invasion should not be publicly handcuffed by accepting American restraint.

Oddly enough the administration, which always has insisted on retaining control of the use of arms supplied the Nationalists, appears to be ruling out an invasion only on a time-to-time basis. Whether or not he intended a direct reference Dulles indicated the new treaty could be extended by agreement to cover defense of additional territory, even including any footholds the Nationalists might gain on the mainland.

Dismisses Suit Against 1952 Redistricting

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A suit attacking the 1952 redistricting of the seven state senatorial districts in St. Louis was dismissed in Circuit Court yesterday by Judge Robert J. Kirkwood.

The dismissal was on a motion that Paul W. Preisler, an attorney and research chemist who filed the suit, failed to prove the districts aren't compact enough and not divised proportionally on the basis of population.

Preisler, a defeated nonpartisan candidate for Congress from the Second District last month, said he would appeal the suit to the Missouri Supreme Court.

This is reported in the Newspaper Evening Moscow, which says the craft will be the first of its kind. It is planned to operate on the Moscow canal and they are going to erect an experimental cable for its route.

New Relationship Between White House, City Halls

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today a new and direct relationship has sprung up between the White House and city halls because the American city is "presumably the special or favored target of some of the modern weapons of war."

These modern weapons, the President added, are "capable of such destruction as to appeall the imagination."

Eisenhower spoke informally at the opening of a two-day conference of mayors and city managers from throughout the country.

The President said the old relationship between federal and state governments is still important, but he declared that in this atomic warfare age the city is "after all moving to the front line much faster than is a rural area which would not be a favored target for such weapons."

Therefore, he said, there is much need for federal, state and city governments to work together for security, as well as other, reasons.

From Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw, Continental Air Defense commander, the mayors heard that:

1. If Russia strikes, "we stand the most likely chance of being hit all-out in a mgihty aerial blow as their first act of aggression."

"Those who know the masters of the Kremlin for the realists they are," he said, "know they would never make the mistake now of engaging our Allies first and leaving us alone to come in when ready."

2. Instead of the four or five year war of the past, the next global conflict could outdistance in four or five days the devastation and death of "all the wars we have fought in our national life, multiplied many times over."

Amd. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, restated the warning that this country will not limit itself in its choice of weapons if attacked.

Size and other specifications of the boat are not made public, but it is assumed it would be built to transport freight.
